June 2018

Dear Members,

I hope you are enjoying the summer weather.

On Sunday, June 4th, the Home Office sponsored its second Kids 4 Kids, 2K Walk & Run, with proceeds going this year to the children’s organization “You can be my Angel.” About one hundred children participated in this event with the starting point being at the office, a route going through the beautiful Sauganash neighborhood, and the finishing line at the home office. Following the walk, all were treated to refreshments, pizza, face painting, music, and fun. Through the efforts of volunteers consisting of our employees, members, directors, and commissioner of District XIII; it was a success. We were able to collect approximately $3,300.

In May, Chicago was visited by the President of Poland Mr. Andrzej Duda. He addressed the Chicago’s Polonia in Millennium Park, which was filled with hundreds of graduates of Polish Saturday Schools and representatives of various organizations.

Every four years the organization hosts a convention in compliance with the bylaws. The upcoming convention will take place in August 2019 before Labor Day weekend. We are currently in the process of reviewing various sites for next year’s convention. It will be announced in the upcoming issue of Zgoda.

Due to the passing of our National Secretary, Charles Komosa, an election had to be held in order to elect a replacement for that position. Mrs. Alicja Kuklinska, the Zgoda Editor, was elected by the Business Board to fill that void. Mr. Jeffrey Twardy, a member of the Fraternal Board was elected as Business Director to fill the vacancy created by the election of Steve Tokarski, who was a Director on the Business Board, as Treasurer. By having Mr. Twardy elected as Business Director, a void has been created on the Fraternal Board. I congratulate the newly-elected Officers and wish them success in their positions. I am confident they will contribute to the growth and continued success of the Alliance.

A candidate seeking to apply for that vacated position must reside in that region. Specific information on the requirements is listed in this issue of Zgoda.

Later this month, members between the ages of 50 and 70 will be receiving information on increasing their existing insurance plan with the Polish National Alliance. Life insurance coverage should be updated to meet changing needs, as you move from one life stage to another. This doesn’t mean that seniors should be expected to buy life insurance with part of the reduced income that retirement provides. It means that the needs for coverage in the mature stage of life may be met by using certificates in force that were purchased to meet the needs in the younger life stages. Please look out for the information in your mailboxes.

Wishing you a restful and enjoyable summer!

June 2018

Dear Members,

It was a very mild but long winter in Chicago, and immediately we went directly into the summer season. I hope you have planned something special for this year’s vacation. If you have children, you should consider PNA overnight camps in Yorkville IL and Bondsville, M. A. Our young PNA members love them! You can find contact information in this issue.

If you are planning a trip abroad, you should definitely consider Poland. You can visit major tourist attractions or explore and enjoy the enchanting beauty of the Polish countryside. Featured on the cover is a summer landscape of Podlasie, the region I come from and hope to visit by the end of the summer.

For now however, I have to further acquaint myself with the position of National Secretary of the Polish National Alliance, to which I was elected by the Business Board of Directors and sworn in by Censor Wesley Musial on June 4th, 2018. I am honored and pledge to work for the betterment of the Organization and its members. I am the second woman, after Ms. Władysława (Lottie) Kubiak in March 1975, to be elected as PNA National Secretary.

I hope you will enjoy this issue of “Zgoda”. It is incredible how much is going on within the Organization. Thank you to all who contributed articles and photos. Please, continue reporting the happenings in your area.

Wishing you a splendid summer,

Alicja Kuklińska
Editor-in-Chief

Poland’s most famous natural monument

The oak called Bartek is the most famous tree in Poland. It is one of three oldest Polish oak trees, believed to be about 1200 years old; however, scientific studies estimate its age at about 700 years. There are several older trees in Poland, yet none of them has matched Bartek’s fame.

It grows in Zagnańsk near Kielce in the Świętokrzyskie Mountains. According to legend, it was favored by King Bolesław Krzywousty and King Kasimir Wielki who camped under it during their hunts. At the beginning of the 20th century, the large oak was partially destroyed by fire, but a dozen years later its trunk was filled with concrete, and its boughs were held up by supports. Between the wars, the oak was categorized as the most significant and valued natural relic by a select panel in 1934. In 1952, the oak was designated as a natural monument. In 1991 the giant tree was struck by lightning which ignited the tree trunk, and new supports were installed. Despite this damage and its old age it still grows and bears fruit. Next to it, the oak tree Little Bartek was planted in 1966 during the celebrations of the 100th anniversary of the Polish State.

The oak tree, planted in front of the PNA building in Chicago in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of Poland regaining its independence, doesn’t yet have a name. If you have a suggestion, please email me at zgoda@pna-znp.org

I am urging you to stop for a moment. Reflect on your life and those you love and care about. Protect your family's future with the PNA. Our predecessors believed in the power of life insurance and so should you.

I would like to wish you a great and safe summer and hope you will take advantage of this exclusive, limited-time offer. Polish National Alliance of the U.S. of N.A.
6100 N. Cicero Ave.
Chicago, IL 60646
BALTIMORE, MD. Too Many Cooks? The proverb “Too many cooks spoil the broth” doesn’t necessarily apply in the kitchen of the Polish National Alliance – Council 21. Since 2011, monthly fall, winter, and spring Saturday Polish cooking classes have been conducted here. The popular idea originated with PNA members Agnieszka Krajewski and Małgorzata Janowski, and now also includes committee members Lucia DiRado and Susan Miller. The class size is usually 10-12 participants costing $30 per person. Everyone is welcome to attend - PNA membership is not a prerequisite - according to Council 21 President Maksymilian Bondyra.

The expert instructions for the various prepared-from-scratch and totally authentic dishes are instructor delivered via hands-on individual participation by the participants over the course of about 3 hours. Afterward, everyone sits down in the lounge and consumes with gusto the culinary delights that they have proudly created. An extra bonus is that the aspiring gourmands are given detailed recipes to take home with them from their unique culinary experiences.

All of the usual classic dishes in the Polish repertoire are prepared in monthly rotation, such as golabki, pierogi, bigos, kielbasa, placki, flaczki (tripe), and kaszanka (black/blood sausage). A selection of the traditional breads, soups, and desserts are usually prepared and served in tandem with the main course.

Some dishes require going the extra mile in preparation, such as roasted goose and czernina/duck soup. The fowl are farm raised and freshly slaughtered there. The blood from the ducks is stabilized with vinegar and used as a required and key ingredient in the authentically prepared czarina with homemade noodles. The roasted goose with apples (actually a gaggle of 4 geese in this case) took a little longer in the oven than expected, but it melted in the mouth when served with the accompanying stewed red cabbage and roasted fingerling potatoes with herbs. Professional Chef Gerhard Kowalski led this special demonstration.

A larger family style and festive class was conducted on December 2nd mainly in the more spacious preparing Paczki for Carnival Time. Agnieszka Krajewski, Małgorzata Janowski, Lucia DiRado, presenter Joanna Jagielska and Irena Rybak are shown proudly displaying the delicious, baked fruits of their culinary labor in preparing for Fat Thursday („Tłusty Czwartek”), always celebrated on the last Thursday before Ash Wednesday and the commencement of Lent.
PNA Lounge featuring “Pierniczki Torunskie” – ‘Gingerbread Cookies, Torun Style,’ with expert presenter Małgorzata Bondyra who hails originally from the city of Torun, Poland. Seventeen adults and seven children, all with flour-covered hands, participated in the basic dough preparation, use of gingerbread man cookie cutters, and bringing to life the baked cookies with the royal (white) icing stylishly applied by hand. It really was a treasured old country Christmas tradition brought to a very appreciative Baltimore Polonia and its guests.

So, the broth is doing just fine even with lots of cooks in the PNA kitchen. And to that, we say “Smacznego”!

Members and families of the Polish National Alliance Council 171 of Bethlehem, PA celebrated General Pulaski day on April 29. Also in attendance were the Bethlehem American Legion Post 379 and the Lehigh Valley Chapter 190 Military Order of the Purple Heart.

The event is held on that day to commemorate General Casimir Pulaski’s two visits to Bethlehem. His first visit was during the fall of 1777 to meet the wounded Marquis de Lafayette who was recovering in the care of the Moravians. During his second visit in 1778, he offered protection of the Moravian Single Sisters during the American Revolution. In gratitude, the sisters presented Pulaski with an embroidered crimson silk banner which he always took into battle with him. The banner was later memorialized in a poem by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

Submitted by Antoinette Sharetzsky

The banner was made for and presented to the brave Count Pulaski by the Moravian sisters at Bethlehem, PA after he raised and organized an independent corps of sixty-eight horses and two hundred foot soldiers in Baltimore in 1778. Pulaski received the banner gratefully and bore it gallantly through many battles until he fell at Savannah, GA in the autumn of 1779. The banner was saved by his lieutenant and eventually reached Baltimore after the close of the War. It is now at the Maryland Historical Society.
Doroczny koncert zespołu Lajkonik Bywaj dziewczę zdrowe, wyjątkowo trudny do zrealizowania i wymagający nie lada wysiłków, był wielkim scenicznym sukcesem!

W niedzielę, 15 kwietnia 2018 r., w pięknej, wypełnionej po brzegi sali Copernicus Center w Chicago, nawiązując do obchodów 100-lecia odzyskania przez Polskę niepodległości, wprowadziliśmy publiczność w atmosferę pamiętnej wiosny 1918 roku. Scenariusz widowiska wpisał się w cykl koncertów W naszej chacie, (w której odbywają się wigilie, koledowania, chrzty i zaślubiny, ważne rodzinne wydarzenia). Wszystko po to, aby podkreślić wartość rodziny i wspólnego świętowania. Tym razem sięgaliśmy dalej. Było podnośle i wzruszająco. Pragnę wyrazić swój podziw dla tancerzy i wychowanków zespołu, którzy w trakcie koncertu przeszli metamorfozę i jako zawodowi artyści wcielili się w rolę swoich rówieśni- ków sprzed 100 lat idących walczyć za wolność Ojczyzny, żegnanych przez pozostające we wsi kobiety: babcie, matki i narzeczone.

W treści ponad dwugodzinnego, wypełnionego tańcem i śpiewem spektaklu, wprowadzono sceny teatru ludowego, w które pięknie i dyskretnie wprowadzała publiczność tancerka zespołu Paula Grzebień. Całość spektaklu można zamknąć w kilkoma zdaniach:

Święta Wielkiej Nocy 1918 r. W chacie, pod bacznym okiem zatroskanych o gromadkę dzieci matki (Arletta Gromek) i babci (Barbara Ignaś) trwają świąteczne przygotowania. Pracami kieruje najstarsza córka (Patrycja Cyran). Dziewczęta pracowicie się uwijają: sprzątają, dekorują, przygotowują palmę, pi-szę pisanki, matka z babcią wnoszą święcone. Dzieci z radością witają wiosnę topiąc Marzannę, tańcząc z Gaikiem, chodząc z kogutkiem. Wszystko wokół budzi się do życia, tylko chłopcy są jacyś zamyśleni, grupują się... Pojawienie się w domu rannego ojca Hallerczyka (Sebastian Cyran) oraz płomienne wezwanie oficera rekrutacyjnego (Bogdan Gromek), pieczętuje sprawę zaciągnięcia się do wojska. Młodzi wiejscy chłopcy „palą się do walki”, a przygotowaniem towarzyszą pieśni: Hej dziewczyno, Przybyli ułani, Ojczyzno ma, Legiony oraz finałowa - Marsz Polonia.

Słowa podziękowania kieruję do ok. 50 wolontariuszy (rodziców) oraz osób, które wypożyczły zespołowi mundury i rekwizyty. Wspólnym wysiłku niemożliwe stało się wykonalne. Publiczność wyraziła swój podziw dla artystów gromkimi brawami i komplementami za „niezwykłe widowisko” i „prawdziwą lekcję historii”. Chapeau bas dla młodych wykonawców!

Dziękuję wszystkim za wieloletnie poparcie i słowa uznania. Jesteśmy i tworzymy dla Was. Życzę wesołych wakacji oraz spokojnego wrześniowego tańca we wiosenku.

Panna Maria, Texas
February 25, 2018. Dr. Jim Mazurkiewicz, Kosciuszko Lodge 165, hosted a delegation of 31 people from Poland. This group was “moved to tears” while listening to stories by the parish priest, Father Iwaniec, as he told them about the hardships and determination of the first Polish settlers in 1854 at Panna Maria, the oldest permanent Polish settlement in the U.S. The delegation included Polish Agriculture leaders who were touring Texas with the guidance of Dr. Mazurkiewicz, Texas A & M AgriLife Extension Director. This tour included stops in Panna Maria, Amarillo, Lubbock, San Antonio, Kennedy, Junction, Abilene and MANY more cities in Texas.

Dr. Jim is touched by an amazing gift he received from the Polish Agriculture Leaders on their trip to Houston - a replica of a coronation sword of Polish Kings.

On February 17, 2018 Council 21 in Baltimore held its annual election of officers.

The Polish National Alliance Lodge 411 of New Castle, PA presented a $10,000 donation Monday, May 21st, 2018 to the New Castle Public Library. The gift was tagged for upkeep, maintenance, and renovation of the library’s Copernicus Room.

In 1976, Polish-American organizations and churches in the New Castle area, together known as the Polish Central Committee, donated money for the establishment of the Copernicus Room, to be used as a community meeting room in what was then the new library building. The room was named in honor of the Polish astronomer Nicholas Copernicus.

Baseball in Poland

The 18th International Presidents Cup Baseball tournament was held in Dzialdowo, Poland from March 9 to March 11, 2018. Teams from 5 countries sent their boys and girls to compete for the Presidents Cup Trophy. All three hundred (300) came by bus and van the Ukraine, Belarus, Moldova, Lithuania, and parts of Poland.

The games were played in two Olympic size gymnasiums, and for many children, this was the first time they were out of their native countries. The schools where they played also served as their hotel. Polish ladies fed them three times a day at no cost to their teams.

The team winning the Presidents Cup Trophy was from Belarus. 11 teams from out of the country and eight teams from Poland competed in the tournament. The first place winner among the Polish teams was Yankees Dzialdowo, and Coach Andrzej Krzykowski did an excellent job with his team.

This annual tournament was first organized by Coach Zdzislaw Ziołkowski, who has continued the tournaments for 18 years with the help of many dedicated volunteers and sponsors. Since Coach Ziołkowski has been coaching baseball, Poland now has a senior group that we hope will qualify for Poland’s Olympic Baseball team.

The Polish National Youth Baseball Foundation is looking for a few good men and women, who want to help promote baseball in Poland and Eastern Europe by collecting proper used baseball equipment to send to interested children. We also ask for your financial support. Checks can be made out to PNYBF, 222 Ocean Drive East, Stamford, CT 06902. If you would like to obtain more information on how to support PNYBF, please contact Al Koproski at 203-323-9944.

PNA Sales Training in Greenpoint Brooklyn

On Sunday, April 8, 2018, in the heart of the Polish community, the Polish National Alliance District III held a Sales Training session, which was presented by Edward J. Zavaski, Director of Sales of the SIG Insurance Agencies in Cheshire, CT. In attendance were PNA sales representatives from the New York and New Jersey areas.

Mr. Zavaski through his extensive presentation was able to include the history and traditions of the Polish National Alliance, including its new visions and products that are available for our members.

By pointing out proven sales principles, including self-motivation and by representing new tools for excitement about the PNA product and the Organization, he was able to engage all of the attendees.

This type of training and personal contact with a sales professional was beneficial and well appreciated by the attending representatives. We thank the National Office and to Ms. Jolanta Walaszek for arranging this very successful Sales Training event.

Minto, North Dakota, March 24, 2018.

Spring is in the air when the aroma of homemade Polish food fills the Minto Community Center in Minto, North Dakota. The Warsaw PNA Dancers’ annual “Polish Food Fest” has become an annual event for Polish food lovers from all over eastern North Dakota from Fargo to the Canadian border and throughout northwestern Minnesota. More than 600 people attended this year for food, fellowship, and dancing.

PNA Lodge 3043 organizers and parents of the dancers served a steady flow of customers for 4 hours at their March 24th fundraiser. Many who came had not eaten a plate of all these Polish favorites since this same event the previous year. This event has become a “reunion of Polish friends”!

The special guest of honor for the evening was the PNA Sales Manager, Jolanta Walaszek of Chicago, Illinois. Jolanta greeted the attendees and spoke about some of the best insurance offerings of the PNA, the largest ethnic fraternal in the U.S. Jolanta also took time to meet and greet attendees as they arrived and distributed a wealth of information about the PNA, and all it had to offer.

A delicious buffet meal included pierogi, kluski, cabbage rolls, homemade Polish sausage, czarnina, potato pancakes, kapusta and pork, Polish chili, Canadian herring, paczki, salads, and Polish desserts. Generous donations from many “friends of the PNA” show tremendous support for keeping this tradition of the Polish heritage. The Warsaw, and “Krakowiak dancers” of Lodge 3043 and Council 195 are currently the only dance groups in North Dakota performing Polish dances in the native costumes.

Chris Misialek, and his committees prepared over 200 lbs. of Polish-style sausage, 1,300 homemade pierogi filled with cheese or potatoes and onions, hundreds of kluski and cabbage rolls and 40 dozen fresh buns made by Beaver’s Café of Minto. Smacznego!

There was also a Polish gift store, a 50/50 raffle, raffle for prizes, auction for donated items by community businesses, and shots of Polish vodka or brandy sold in Polish shot glasses, high ball and water glasses with the Lodge logo were also used for accenting the table centerpieces.

Entertainment was provided by the PNA members of the Warsaw lodge. A high turnout of “Alumni Sandra Schuster, Dance Director, and District XIV Commissioner Gary Babinski, were delighted with the turnout. Sandra spoke to the attentive crowd about the importance of membership in PNA and maintaining an active position between the Lodge and the community. Excellent weather conditions contributed to the success of the event.

“We’ve found a menu that is unmatched by any fundraising group in the area, so it is extremely successful each year,” says Schuster.

“It takes the cooperation of many willing volunteers to plan, prepare, serve and clean up a delicious meal like this.” “In addition to the PNA lodge members, all of this would not be possible without the tremendous help of people in the Minto community and surrounding area.” Cooking started days before the actual food fest date.

Proceeds from this event supplement costume expenses and operations for the PNA dance groups sponsored by Lodge 3043 of Warsaw, North Dakota. The dance groups also donate funds to help maintain the Minto Community Center, where they have rehearsals year round and store many costumes. Lodge 3043 donates several thousand dollars to community projects each year.

“Dancers” performed as well as the “Tots,” ages 2-6 and several intermediate level performers, ages 7-14.

Występ „Żaków” bardzo przypadł publiczności do gustu, został nagrodzony rześistymi brawami i zaproszeniem do udziału w imprezie w następnym roku.

Easter Egg Hunt in Los Angeles, CA

This year, on March 31st, Lodge 700 celebrated another Easter holiday through their annually occurring Easter Egg Hunt. The hunt took place at Our Lady of The Bright Mount Polish Parish, located on the outskirts of Downtown Los Angeles. Every year, on Holy Saturday, Polish people of the greater Los Angeles area gather to bless the feasts that they will consume the following morning with their families. This coming-together also allows for people to congregate and celebrate the coming of the Resurrection of Our Lord as well as socialize and experience a joyful day as one community.

Because I am away at school in Oregon, it is difficult for me to stay actively involved in the Polish community on a weekly basis. However, when I do come back home to Los Angeles, I make it a point to rekindle my relationships with other parishioners as well as be involved in events that take place at the parish. Because I have been a PNA member for many years and the organization has given my family and me so much, being a volunteer at the annual Easter Egg Hunt is the least I can do to show my gratitude. This year, the weather was beautiful and holiday spirits were high. Children of a variety of ages participated in the egg hunt. After each age group finished the hunt, they received a bag of candy and a PNA coloring book. A young woman by the name of Helenka Babiszkiewicz found the golden egg and was rewarded a $20 cash prize.

Each year’s Easter Egg Hunt turns out to be more exciting, successful and rewarding than the last. I would like to thank Lodge 700 President Kasia Akrami for inviting me to participate every year, as well as PNA for being able to organize such a heart-warming on a yearly basis. I look forward to the upcoming PNA Easter Egg Hunt, and invite you all to join us.

On Sunday, March 11, 2018, song and dance groups sponsored by the Polish National Alliance exhibited their abilities to a broad audience of their families, friends, and enthusiasts of Polish folklore.

Over 600 people gathered at the Lane Technical High School in Chicago, to admire performers dressed in beautiful costumes executing songs and dances representing different regions of Poland.

Amongst the audience was the Consul of the Republic of Poland Piotr Semeniuk, and PNA president Frank J. Spula, addressing the crowd with words of admiration and wishes for continued successes.

The 2018 concert featured 16 groups (around 400 performers) supported financially, and promoted by the Polish National Alliance.

The concert was a great success. As previously, proceeds benefited participating groups.

You cruise the Internet but you still can’t get the answer you need. Your neighbor advises you on your rights but you are not sure if that information is accurate. What do you do? You call the PNA Polish Information Center and Amicus Poloniae Legal Clinic. For many decades our fraternal has provided help and assistance in many ways. One of our best benefits is available to everyone. The Information Center and Amicus Legal Clinic is ready to help you with your problem. From serious to just curious, we can get you the information you need!

Many times the legal system seems overwhelming. The volunteer attorneys and staff led by Mark Dobrzycki can help you with what may seem as an inconvenience but still needs to be considered as important. One example that may make you laugh but caused an elder couple to seek our help was with the Cook County Forest Preserve Police. The couple was visiting one of the many local county forest preserves when an officer stopped them. The woman was cutting flowers and the man was collecting mushrooms for good old Polish mushroom soup. The officer issued them several violations totaling fines and court costs of $2,000 for breaking the law. A Preserve is just what the name means, it preserves nature for the public, and the law states that nothing may be removed from the forest including flowers and mushrooms. With the help of our volunteer attorney James Shapiro and a translator, the couple left the hearing with a warning from the judge. The judge who was of Japanese descent also remarked that his culture just as Polish culture values mushrooms for food and medicine but he said with a chuckle that he gets his mushrooms from the local grocery store.

Contact us by phone, (773) 286-2325, or email, pnainfocenter@pna-znp.org, and Mark will do his best to help you.
“Little Wici” in Poznań and Pyrzyce

Concerts, field trips, exploring beautiful places - this is how Little Wici spend the year 2017 summer vacation in Poland. Girls and boys ages 10-14 participated in the two International Folk Festivals, in Poznan and Pyrzyce, in the western part of Poland.

Poznań is a center of trade, sports, education, technology, and tourism. It is an important academic site, with about 130,000 students and the Adam Mickiewicz University - the third largest Polish university. The city also hosts the Poznań International Fair – the most prominent industrial fair in Poland and one of the largest in Europe. The city’s most renowned landmarks include Poznań Town Hall, the National Museum, Grand Theatre, Poznań Cathedral and the Imperial Castle.

International Children Festival-Kids Fun Folk, is an annual Poznań event, and last summer Little Wici were very happy to be a part of it. There were concerts, dancing workshops, field trips and other activities with a lot of new friends. Little Wici, as always, showed their best: the public was amazed and enthusiastically reacted on their performances. Wici’s Anna Strojny worked very hard to choreograph beautiful American dances. Colorful, opulent looking costumes drew people’s attention. Kids looked perfect, as well as they performed. Public loved them and awarded them with loud rounds of applause.

American folk is not known in Europe and Poland, but western music is, so when public recognized that music and saw the dances they loved it, especially clogging, a dance from the Appalachian Mountains with Irish roots, full of rhythm and positive energy. Our kids had a lot...
A History-Making Scholarship Duo

Baltimore, MD. Everyone was in for a very pleasant surprise at the 2018 Polish Heritage Association of Maryland (PHAM) scholarship awards banquet here on May 20, 2018: For the first time in 43 years of awards a mother and daughter duo received simultaneous scholarships, resulting in one for the history books of the PHAM - and most probably a real familial rarity in any other scholarship program too.

Dominika Bondyra, 18, graduated from Perry Hall High School in 2017. She is presently a sophomore at the University of Maryland Baltimore County and pursuing a BS degree in Computer Science. She loves photography, art, music and dance, and is an advanced flutist and a ballet dancer. Dominika is a member of Polish National Alliance (PNA) Lodge 238 and a Delegate to PNA Council 21.

Malgorzata “Gosia” Romanowska Bondyra, 43, graduated from Zespół Szkół Ekonomicznych High School in Torun, Poland. She also studied economics there at the Uniwersytet Mikołaja Kopernika, before she arrived here in 1995. Gosia has also studied Visual and Performing Arts – Violin Performance at the University of Maryland Baltimore County (UMBC) and is an accomplished violinist and vocalist. She now returns to UMBC to pursue a BA degree in Management of Aging Services. Malgorzata is a member of Lodge 238 serving as its Financial Secretary. She is also the elected Council 21 Recording Secretary and Delegate. Gosia is Lodge 238’s insurance sales representative, also for the the Council 21 lodges, and for all PNA councils and lodges in the state of Maryland.

The PHAM began its scholarship program in 1975 and to date has made grants now approaching $400,000 over the past 43 years. We know that the $1,500 grants awarded to each Malgorzata and Dominika will be put to very good academic use – and we of the PNA wish them both much success in their respective fields of studies.

After Poznań, Male Wici went to Pyrzyce, to be a part of another International Folk Festival. They were the youngest and the most lovable group of the festival. It was short, so kids were very busy, performing two or even three times a day. In the end, our young dancers were tired, but satisfied with the job well done -representing the WICI, the Polish National Alliance, and American Polonia!

If you like dancing, meeting new people, traveling – join WICI! We are waiting for you!

W piątek, 18 maja, w dniu urodzin Karola Wojtyły, Gmina 91 Związku Narodowego Polskiego uroczyście, już po raz trzynasty, uczciła pamięć papieża Polaka. Spotkanie z tej okazji odbyło się w siedzibie Związku Narodowego Polskiego w Chicago.

Stanisława Rawicka, prezesa Gminy 91 ZNP, przywitała licznych gości, wśród których znaleźli się komisarka okręgu XIII ZNP Wanda Juda, prezesi aktywnych grup gminy: Maria Roszek, Kazimierz Chlebek, Mirosław Niedziński i Michał Niemkiewicz, jak również Anna Zalińska, która przybyła na spotkanie wraz z zespołem Wiyrchy przy kole Burstyk ZPPA.

Uroczysty wieczór rozpoczął się od wspólnej modlitwy oraz odśpiewania majowej pieśni „Chwalcie łąki umajone” pod przewodnictwem Elżbiety Cimochowicz, członkini Gminy 91. Miłą niespodziankę sprawiła gościom Katarzyna Piątek ze stowarzyszenia biznesowego Pod 1 Dachem, prezentując pamiątkowy transparent, który towarzyszył jej w dniu historycznej beatyfikacji Jana Pawła II w Rzymie.

Spotkanie uświetnili recytacją własnej poezji: Jan Żółtek, czytający swoje wiersze „Wróćmy pamięcią” i „Kanonizacja”, oraz Zofia Bukowska. Dzięki zespołowi Wiyrchy, który pod kierownictwem Andrzej Nędzy odśpiewał popularną pieśń „Góralu czy ci nie żal” zgromadzeni goście mogli poczuć się przez chwilę jak podczas niezapomnianych wizyt papieża Polaka na Podhalu.

Zebrani goście uczciли również minutą ciszy pamięć żołnierzy poległych w zwycięskiej bitwie o Monte Cassino. WAR SZTATY HISTORYCZNE IPN–U W POLSKIEJ SZKOLE PUŁASKIEGO

Edukatorzy z warszawskiego Biura Edukacji Narodowej Instytutu Pamięci Narodowej podczas tygodniowego pobytu w Chicago na zaproszenie Zrzeszenia Nauczycieli Polskich w Ameryce w ramach Przystanku Historia przeprowadzili warsztaty historyczne dla uczniów 4 polonijnych szkół oraz nauczycieli. Wiodącymi tematami drugiej edycji były: odzyskanie przez Polskę niepodległości w 1918 r. i Polacy ratujący Żydów.

W grupie młodszej, obejmującej uczniów z klas 6 i 7 zajęcia, które zatytułowały „Życie w słoiku – opowieść o Irenie Sendlerowej” miały na celu wyjaśnić uczniom, jakie postawy przyjmowali Polacy wobec Holocaustu w czasie II wojny światowej. Główną postacią omawianą podczas warsztatów była Irena Sendlerowa, która wspólnie z Radą Pomocy Żydom „Żegota” uratowała 2,5 tys. żydowskich dzieci.

Natomiast w warsztatach dla uczniów starszych uczestniczyli ósmoklasiści i licealiści, a omawiany z nimi temat był szerszy i dotyczył Polaków ratujących Żydów pod okupacją niemiecką. Ważnymi do zapamiętania z warsztatów było m.in., że mimo niebezpieczeństw i zagrożenia własnego życia wielu Polaków decyduło się pomagać Żydom i że to właśnie Polacy stanowią ponad 7 tys. grupę osób, których pomoc została udokumentowana, a bohaterka postawa uhonorowana przez Instytut Pamięci Męczenników i Bohaterów Holocaustu Jad Waszem w Jerozolimie najwyższym odznaczeniem Sprawiedliwy wśród Narodów Świata. Jednak najistotniejszym był fakt, aby uczniowie mieli świadomość, że Polacy ratowali Żydów, choć na terenie okupowanej przez naziistowskie Niemcy Polscy groziła Polakom kara śmierci.

Podczas warsztatów uczestnicy poznali kilka postaci, które pomagały Żydom: Irenę Sendlerową, rodzinę Ulmów, państwa Jana i Antoninę Żabińskich oraz Jana Karskiego.

Baltimore, MD. The extended Poremski family has had quite a history on the docks and in the offices of the Port of Baltimore. As for myself, I began working on the docks in 1965 as a general longshoreman, hustling cargo on and off the ships. From 1978 to 1985 I was an elected union official in Local 333 of the International Longshoremen’s Association (ILA). Starting in 1985, and stretching until my retirement on November 1, 2017, I served as a Field Representative simultaneously for two ILA-Steamship Trade Association of Baltimore trust funds that the union-management trustees use to provide contractual fringe benefits to the ILA longshoremen and women in the port. And now after 52 years of combined and interconnected union-management employment, I made the somewhat bittersweet decision to retire at age 72.

The Poremski family-at-large has cast a sizable shadow across Baltimore’s waterfront, along with that of a commanding presence of Poles and Polish Americans. It included my grandfather, father, two brothers, two uncles, a brother-in-law, and a cousin. Another brother retired recently with 50 years of service and management at the Maryland Port Administration. Collectively, we have at least a few hundred years of total service in the shipping industry. And we also left some blood on the docks … my mentioned grandfather was tragically killed in the early morning hours of August 16, 1947, after being swept from the deck of a cargo ship onto the pier by a sling of long steel beams.

I was just past two years old at the time, and who could ever have imagined then that I would be the last family member to follow in my grandfather’s footsteps onto the docks and ships - and would be the last Poremski left standing at the end of our longshore dynasty? We now have gone full circle … but I enjoyed every minute and year of the decades-long multi-faceted blue and white-collar work environments.

But I’m not retiring from the Polish American Journal and Zgoda! I cover many events at the Embassy of the Republic of Poland as well as Polonia happenings in Washington and Baltimore. I also enjoy sharing my occasional and very interesting experiences in Poland with the readership. I’m also very involved in many aspects and organizations of Polonia, as well as being Chairman of the National Katyn Memorial Foundation and the Vice President of Council 21 of the Polish National Alliance, both located in Baltimore.

In any event, you can look for my PAJ articles into the foreseeable future, with the pleasure being mine to continue to serve you to the best of my ability.

Richard P. Poremski

Congratulations Mr. Poremski! Please, keep on sharing your stories and news with the ZGODA readers!

Often times in family history, we have a family member who rises above the usual experiences of everyday life. This is true in the family of Christine Komski Sullivan, a member of PNA Lodge 848 of Washington, DC. Her father, Jan Komski, wanted to make sure that the world would not forget the atrocities of the Holocaust during World War II. Through his artwork, Jan Komski, a Polish-born Catholic and political prisoner left a visual record of the happenings at Auschwitz-Birkenau. After liberation, Jan Komski and his wife, Zdzislawa, and daughter, Christine, resettled in the United States. The Komski’s donated over 300 drawings and paintings to the Auschwitz Museum so that conversation would continue through Jan Komski’s art - “I am one of the fortunate people who survived. I think that every survivor feels obliged to make a legacy and remember those who died there. This is my way to honor them” - Remembrance Plaque. Both Jan and Zdzisława Komski were members of PNA Lodge 848.

In May 2017, Christine Komski Sullivan, together with her husband Richard, was invited to Bircza, Poland, the birthplace of her father Jan Komski. The reason for the visit began when Grzegorz Piwowarczyk, a history teacher at Zespół Szkół w Birczy, learned that Jan Komski attended the school where he teaches. In conjunction with the 100th Anniversary of the Regaining of Independence of Poland, students were learning about people and events in Polish history since 1918. Because of Jan Komski’s connection to the school, Mr. Piwowarczyk wanted his students to learn about Mr. Komski in a special way. He obtained the support of the school’s vice principal, Marta Kostka. The idea spread not only in the school but throughout the community. All of the students were involved in projects and competitions to learn about Jan Komski. Because of a visit to Auschwitz a year earlier by Christine and Richard Sullivan, the museum was able to provide Mr. Piwowarczyk with family contact information for the Sullivans living in Virginia.

When Christine and Richard arrived in Bircza for the ceremony, they envisioned a small program. However when they saw the scope and size of the actual ceremony, they were completely overwhelmed. The editor of Życie Podkarpackie, Artur Wilgucki, attended and crew covered the entire program. Mrs. Kostka opened the program by welcoming honored guests, the students, and community. Mayor Grzegorz Gągola represented the Bircza community. The local PKO bank branch, which provided the financial support for the ceremony, was represented by Beata Fedyk. During the ceremony, Christine Komski Sullivan and her cousin, Marzena Komska-Ciesielska, unveiled the Remembrance Plaque in honor of Jan Komski. A representative from the Auschwitz Museum, Robert Placzek, spoke about Jan Komski and his contribution in remembering the Holocaust. Student laureates were recognized for their entries in school competitions. A cadet from the upper-level school, Klaudia Sowa, presented Christine with a report she wrote on her father. The school children enthusiastically sang patriotic songs. Through an interpreter, Christine delivered her heartfelt gratitude to the school and community of Birzyca for remembering and honoring her father. She expressed her appreciation to Mrs. Kostka for making it possible for her and her husband to participate in this ceremony. After returning home from Poland, Christine donated one of her father’s paintings to the school, a self-portrait to hang next to the plaque.

Po latach starań i zabiegów, jako rezultat niedawnej wizyty przedstawicieli Instytutu Pamięci Narodowej w Chicago, archiwalne egzemplarze wydawanego przez Związek Narodowy Polski od ponad 110 lat Dziennika Związkowego, zostały wysłane do Polski do konserwacji i digitalizacji.

Panowie Grzegorz Trzyna (naczelnik Wydziału Zarządzania Zasobem Archiwalnym w Archiwum IPN) oraz Krzysztof Wojda – archiwista IPN w Warszawie, przylecieli do Chicago by zabezpieczyć i przygotować do transportu stare egzemplarze jednej obecnie polskojęzycznej gazety codziennej w Stanach Zjednoczonych. Redaktor Grzegorz Dziedzic nadzorował nad projektem z ramienia publikacji.

Dziennik Związkowy stanowi niezwykle źródło informacji i wiedzy, z którego po digitalizacji będą mogli korzystać historycy, dziennikarze, czy językoznawcy. Proces digitalizacji wszystkich archiwalnych egzemplarzy zajmie ok. 3-4 lata. Najstarsze wolumeny znajdują się w bardzo delikatnym stanie i przeglądanie ich nie jest wskazane, nowsze są często bardzo zniszczone.

Dzięki współpracy z Instytutem Pamięci Narodowej, Dziennik Związkowy stanie się niewątpliwie ważnym źródłem wiedzy historycznej, która dotychczas ukryta była dla świata w piwnicach redakcji.

PNA at the Long Island Business Expo & Conference

We drove an hour to the Long Island Business Expo & Conference which was held at The Nassau Veterans Memorial Coliseum in Uniondale, NY. The day was filled with anticipation as we set up alongside over 140 other businesses and organizations exhibiting their products and services. Our Lodge was represented by President Zena Zielinska who brought along a volunteer from Mariana Everest Capital Consultants, a business advisory and consulting service company, who was one of many sponsors of the event. The day was so busy that we had no time to sit, as hundreds of people came to find out more about PNA, and many more came to say hello to celebrate our Polish heritage. By the end of the 7 ½ hour day, we had given out almost all the brochures, pamphlets, and exhibit items from our Chicago headquarters. We are in the process of following up with the dozens of interested parties who left us their names and business cards, and we hope to have some new members to increase our Lodge base.

Ci, którzy przeszli i przeżyli, zahartowanymi doświadczeniami lossu dbają o to, aby pamiętać o ofiarach zsyłek przetrwali.

W niedzielę 11 lutego, parafia św. Michała Archanioła w Bridgeport była miejscem corocznej uroczystości upamiętniającej dramatyczne rocznice zsyłek Polaków zamieszkałych wschodnie kresy Rzeczpospolitej na Syberię (była to już 78. rocznica). Organizatorzy postanowili złożyć hołd polskim ofiarom masowej deportacji na Syberię roku 1940, a w szczególności nielicznej już grupie żyjących jeszcze Sybiraków. O godzinie 11:00 kościół wypełnił się licznie przybyłymi parafianami, dużą grupą gości z różnych miejscowości w Connecticut, jak również przybyszami spoza stanu. Szczególnie zauważalne były sylwetki Sybiraków, od których biła duma i dostojeństwo, przeplatające się z sylwetkami ubranych w wojskowe mundury weteranów. Dużą grupę stanowiła również przybyła na tę uroczystość młodzież z polskich szkół z Bridgeport, Derby, New Britain i Stamford. Obecne były poczty sztabarowe organizacji weteranów, lokalnych polskich szkół, jak również innych organizacji polonijnych.

Tego dnia na twarzach zgromadzonych w kościele widać było zadumę nad obecną sytuacją w Polsce, jak również nad tragicznymi losami zesłańców roku 1940. Ojciec Michał Nowak, proboszcz parafii św. Michała w swojej homilii nieustannie nawiązywał do tragicznych wydarzeń 1940 roku przedstawiając zebranym nieliczną grupę zesłańców, jako bohaterów tamtych czasów, czasów pogardy człowieczeństwa, gdzie życie wydawało się być nic nie warte.

In 1891, the Polish National Alliance organized the very first Polish Constitution Day Parade in Chicago and continued this grand event for 100 years. Since 1991, The Alliance of Polish Clubs in Chicago took upon themselves organizing the Polish parade in Chicago.

This year, as every year, PNA's float was in the heart of Chicago on Saturday, May 5th, proudly representing the Organization. With vivacious Wici dancers, the Polish Daily News, and WPNA 103.1 radio station right behind us, we were an impressive group.

Before the parade, there was a wreath-laying ceremony at the Kosciuszko Monument organized by the Fraternal Department of the PNA, and well-attended political breakfast by the Chicago Society PNA Lodge 1450.

This year, the weather was beautiful, and so was the Polish spirit in all of us attending!
Polish Custom Revived in Holyoke, Massachusetts

Holyoke, MA. Polish National Alliance Lodge 525 of Holyoke, MA organized the first International Women's Day on March 11 at Pilsudski Park in Holyoke. The event was featured as, “Damskie Spotkanie Przy Kawie” and only ladies were invited to attend. International Women’s Day, in Polish: Miedzynarodowy Dzien Kobiet, is celebrated every year on March 8. It became a day of celebration in Poland after World War II implemented by the Russians. Initially, this feast was designated by the government. It later was accepted by Polish society, and it became part of the Polish culture.

From 1948 to 1956 Polish women began to change the meaning of this day. It was a time for women to demand rights for improved working conditions. With the fall of Stalinism, the government and mass media began to recognize that women are mothers, housewives, and also exhibit original beauty and caring attributes. The government and media still try to convince Polish women that their role is to build a socialistic future, but women are also wished personal happiness. Women were beginning to strive for a better life, treatment, and recognition for their contributions to society overall.

The late 1980’s was the dawn of the celebration of Women’s Day. It became a day to revere women and give them a flower such as a rose or carnation. There was a strong tendency to adopt Western culture’s Valentine’s Day. This became popular, but not in Poland until the mid-1980’s.

There is an attempt to revitalize Women’s Day in Poland and Western Massachusetts as well. Many women would like to be treated special on this one day when men will try to be better husbands or sons and even help with daily chores.

The women’s movement impacted the Polish National Alliance (PNA). Women within the PNA organization were protesting for the right to vote. As a result in 1900, twenty years before the United States 19th Amendment to the Constitution, women were given the right to vote in PNA matters.

In an audience of 175 women at Pilsudski Park, there were many teachers, nurses, doctors, lawyers, business leaders and a special guest, Teresa Struziak Sherman, PNA National Business Board Director from Wilbraham, MA. Each lady was presented with a long-stemmed rose upon entering the hall. The guests enjoyed entertainment and an exceptional buffet which included, much, much more than coffee or tea. The event received such positive response that we all hope that PNA Lodge 525 will again host the celebration in 2019. Thank you to all who volunteered their time and homemade delicacies.

Enjoying Polish Women’s Day In Holyoke, MA

Cold Polish favorites for hot summer days

Freshly pickled cucumbers
Ogórki małosolne

Ingredients:
• 2.2 lb. (1kg) of cucumbers (washed)
• Horseradish root, approx. 3” (8 cm) long (thinly sliced)
• horseradish leaf (lightly crushed)
• 4 - 5 cloves of garlic
• a few sprigs of dill (including seeds)
• 1 Tbsp. of mustard seeds
• 1 Tbsp. (or less) of salt

Directions:
Place cucumbers and the rest of the ingredients in a large Ziploc bag. Shake the bag so that the salt and spices mix well. Refrigerate for about six hours. Then, take it out and leave at room temperature. Fermentation time depends on the room temperature, but after about 20 hours, chill them again, and enjoy! These pickles are crunchy, healthy, and delicious.

Polish Cold Beet Soup
Chłodnik

Ingredients:
• 5 young beets
• 1 tablespoon (15 ml) lemon juice (from half of lemon)
• 1/2 teaspoon sugar
• 1 large cucumber (or 2-3 small ones)
• 4 radishes
• 2 garlic cloves
• 4 cups (1 L) kefir (or buttermilk)
• 1 and 1/2 cups (400 grams) Greek yogurt
• salt and pepper
• 1 bunch of dill, finely chopped
• add 1 hard boil egg per serving

Directions:
Peel the beets and dice them into small cubes. Heat about 500 ml of water with the lemon juice and sugar. Once it reaches the boiling point, add the diced beets and boil for about 12 minutes or until soft. Scoop the beets out and let them cool completely. If you find the beets with leaves, these are edible. You can either chiffon them and add them in the soup or use for a salad. In the meantime, dice the radishes and the cucumber into small cubes (you can peel the cucumber or not, as you prefer). Mix them with the finely chopped garlic, kefir, yogurt, salt, and pepper. Once the beets cool completely, add them over the vegetable and kefir mixture and give it a good stir. Serve cold with a hard-boiled egg, sprinkled with finely chopped dill.

Anxiety: Will I Ever be Free?

Anxiety is one of those things that you never outgrow. The key is to be able to manage anxiety, and not allow it to manage you. On the one hand, anxiety can be a good thing because it is a motivator to get things done. Anxiety can cause you to perform better because you do not want to fail. You put more effort into the task or relationship when there is anxiety involved. This is a normal part of life. You may feel anxious when faced with a problem at work/school, before taking a test, or making an important decision, especially if the outcome could be disastrous. These are all a part of life and are to be considered normal when temporary. Anxiety disorders, those that do not let the anxiety go away and get worse over time, are detrimental to your health. Feelings of anxiety can interfere with activities of daily living, for example, job performance, school work, and personal relationships. There are several types of anxiety disorders that include: generalized anxiety disorder (GAD); panic disorder, and social anxiety disorder.

SIGNS AND SYMPTOMS

Generalized Anxiety Disorder (GAD). People with this problem show excessive anxiety or worry for months and have related symptoms that include:
- Restlessness or feelings of being on the edge
- Feeling easily fatigued
- Difficulty concentrating or having your mind go blank
- Being irritable
- Muscle tension
- Difficulty controlling the worry
- Sleep disturbances (problem falling asleep, staying asleep, or restless, unsatisfying sleep)

Panic Disorder. People with panic disorder have unexpected panic attacks, which are sudden periods of intense fear that may include heart palpitations, pounding heart, fast heart rate, sweating, trembling/shaking; sensations of shortness of breath, smothering, choking, or feelings of impending doom. Panic disorder symptoms include:
- Sudden and repeated attacks of intense fear
- Feelings of being out of control during the panic attack
- Fear or avoidance of places where panic attacks have occurred in the past

Social Anxiety Disorder. People with this disorder, (sometimes called “social phobia”) have an intense fear of social or performance situations in which they fear being embarrassed, judged, rejected, or fearful of offending others. Social anxiety symptoms include:
- Feeling highly anxious about being with others and having difficulty talking to others
- Having self-conscious feelings in front of other people and worried about feeling humiliated, embarrassed, rejected or fearful of offending others
- Being afraid of being judged
- Worrying days/weeks before an event where others will also be present
- Staying away from places where there are people
- Having difficulty making and keeping friends
- Blushing, sweating or trembling around people
- Feeling nauseous or sick to your stomach when around others

If you are having these symptoms, consult with your healthcare provider. Physical health conditions, such as an overactive thyroid gland, low blood sugars, or some medications can cause one to feel anxious. A thorough mental health examination is also helpful because anxiety disorders can be associated with other related conditions, such as depression or obsessive-compulsive disorder.

Risk Factors. According to research findings, family genes and environmental factors often interact with one another and become risk factors for anxiety disorders.
Specific risk factors include:

- Shyness, or behavioral inhibitions during childhood
- Being a female
- Low economic status
- Being divorced or widowed
- Experiencing stressful life events during childhood and adulthood
- Being a victim or perpetrator of bullying
- Biological family members who suffer anxiety disorders
- Parents who have a history of mental disorders
- Increased afternoon saliva cortisol levels (especially for social anxiety disorder)

TREATMENT AND THERAPIES
Anxiety disorders are primarily treated with psychotherapy, medication, or both.

Psychotherapy. To be effective, psychotherapy, also known as “talk therapy”, must be directed at the person's specific anxiety. This can cause discomfort for the person when faced with confronting his/her feared situations.

Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (CBT). This type of therapy teaches a person different ways of thinking, behaving, and reacting to anxiety-producing and fearful situations. CBT can also help people to learn and practice social skills, which is vital for treating social anxiety disorder. Cognitive therapy focuses on identifying, challenging and then decreasing the importance of unhelpful, destructive or unhealthy thoughts underlying the anxiety disorder. Exposure therapy focuses on confronting the underlying fears causing the anxiety, enabling the person to take part in activities that they have been avoiding. Exposure therapy is performed along with relaxation exercises and/or imagery therapy. Cognitive therapy seems to work better than exposure therapy for most people.

Self-Help or Support Groups. Some people with anxiety disorders may benefit from joining a self-help or support group which promotes the sharing of problems and positive achievements with others. Internet chat groups are not recommended for this purpose because false identities and lack of truthfulness is all too common, and can mislead someone who depends on honesty and trust from the chat group’s contact. Talking with a member of the clergy or a trusted friend can be helpful, but it may not be sufficient if your need is care from an expert clinician.

Stress Management Techniques and Meditation. These methods can often help people with anxiety disorders calm themselves and enhance the therapy effects. Caffeine, certain illicit drugs, and even some over-the-counter cold medications can increase the symptom of anxiety disorders. Avoiding them should be considered. Check with your healthcare provider or pharmacist. It is very important for the recovery of a person with an anxiety disorder that the family/significant others are supportive, but they should not encourage the anxiety symptom/behaviors to continue. The purpose is to foster positive results and healing, and not to enable the anxiety to overpower the person.

Medications. Anxiety disorders are not cured by taking prescribed medications, but often they will relieve symptoms. Medications are sometimes used as the first treatment of an anxiety disorder or only used if there is a lack of response to psychotherapy. Research studies have shown that there are often better results if a combination of psychotherapy and medication are used at the same time. The most common medications prescribed to treat anxiety disorders are antidepressants, anti-anxiety drugs and beta-blockers. Antidepressants are used to treat depression, but they can also be effective to treat anxiety. By taking the prescribed medication, symptoms are reduced allowing the psychotherapy or behavioral therapies to be effective in resolving the anxiety disorder.
Please note that some medications are effective only if taken regularly, as prescribed, and that symptoms return if the medication is stopped. Illicit drugs and/or alcohol consumption are not answers to treating anxiety disorders.

There are many resources available online, in libraries and Federal resources. If you feel that anxiety is robbing you of the joys of living, do not hesitate to seek help from the many sources of information and medical assistance. Begin with your primary health care provider.
S/he will advise you of the next step. As a note about bullying, victim or perpetrator, the effects can linger well into adulthood from childhood. Both are at risk for mental health problems such as anxiety, depression, substance abuse and suicide. You do not need to be in the severe stages of anxiety to seek the help that you need.
Treatment started at an early stage will lead to better results. Everyone experiences anxiety at different times and for different reasons, but when anxiety consumes your life, affects your important relationships, and you can no longer “shake it off” or resolve the cause of the anxiety, it is time for you to seek available professional help. Do not feel defeated or be ashamed of your fears/feelings. Be determined that you will rise above the problems and move forward.

Anxiety data

• According to the World Health Organization, an estimated 3.6 percent of the world’s population suffers from anxiety disorders.

• Anxiety is more prevalent in women, in people under 35, and in those who live in North America or Western European countries.

• Anxiety is the most common mental-health disorder in the United States, affecting nearly one-third of both adults and adolescents, according to the National Institute of Mental Health.

• Over the last decade, anxiety has overtaken depression as the most common reason college students seek counseling services.

• People with chronic health conditions are more likely to experience anxiety. Almost 11 percent of people with heart disease and 32 percent of those with multiple sclerosis reported having a generalized anxiety disorder.
According to the Mayo Clinic, your diet cannot cure anxiety, but some foods help with anxiety and have a calming effect on the body, while other foods cause anxiety after eating.

Choose foods such as complex carbs that boost the calming brain chemical, serotonin. Stay hydrated. Dehydration can cause mood changes. Consider adding to your diet chocolate, folate, and other B vitamins, low-glycemic foods, magnesium, omega-3 fatty acids, tryptophan. Consider adding foods high in zinc. Oysters, cashews, liver, beef, and egg yolks have been linked to lowered anxiety.

Food to Eat

Turkey and Tryptophan-Rich Foods

Tryptophan can have a positive effect on stress because this amino acid helps your brain produce feel-good chemicals. Tryptophan (precursor to serotonin) is a neurotransmitter that helps you feel calm. You will find it in: turkey, chicken, bananas, milk, oats, cheese, soy, nuts, peanut butter, and sesame seeds.

Beef and Foods Rich in Vitamin B

A deficiency in B vitamins, such as folic acid and B12, can trigger depression in some people. You can take a vitamin B supplement or eat foods that are rich in B vitamins to ward off anxiety. Foods that help with anxiety include beef, pork, chicken, leafy greens, legumes, oranges and other citrus fruits, rice, nuts, and eggs.

Complex Carbs

Carbohydrates increase production of serotonin in the brain. When choosing mood-lifting carbs, go for whole grains, such as whole-wheat bread or brown rice, rather than processed choices, such as sugar, candy, or even white bread and white rice.

Omega-3-Rich Foods

Consuming omega-3 fatty acids (EPA and DHA), found in fatty fish such as salmon, tuna, lake trout, herring, mackerel, anchovies, and sardines, can be uplifting and can enhance your mood. A possible side benefit: Omega-3s may reduce the risk of heart disease.

Greek Yogurt and High-Protein Foods

Protein helps stimulate the production of the brain chemicals norepinephrine and dopamine, which, like serotonin, are neurotransmitters and carry impulses between nerve cells. Higher levels of norepinephrine and dopamine have been shown to improve alertness, mental energy, and reaction time. Good sources of protein include Greek yogurt, fish, meats, cheese, eggs, nuts, beans, soy, and lentils.

Food to avoid

Coffee and Caffeinated Drinks

People drink coffee and other beverages containing caffeine (tea, cola, and hot chocolate) to help boost their energy levels. While sugar may give you a temporary boost of serotonin, coffee inhibits levels of serotonin in the brain. When serotonin levels are suppressed, you can become depressed and feel irritable. Caffeine is also a diuretic, and even mild dehydration can cause depression. Caffeine can keep you awake, leading to stress and anxiety. To be in a positive mood, you need to sleep well.

Candy and Sweets

Sweets, including those containing table sugar, honey, and corn syrup, can make you feel temporarily better. Sugar is absorbed quickly into the bloodstream. The absorption causes an initial high or surge of energy that wears off as the body increases its insulin production to remove the sugar from your blood. As a result: you are left feeling tired and low.

Alcohol

Some people drink alcohol because it seems to ease stress and anxiety. Unfortunately, the good mood is very temporary. In the long run, alcohol is a depressant. Like caffeine, alcohol is a diuretic. It’s important to stay hydrated for many reasons, including one being your mood.
Poland’s Oldest Tree

From the shores of the Baltic Sea to the rocky Carpathians, Poland offers tourist attractions that should not be missed. Rich history, stunning scenery, hidden treasures...

Yew (Cis Henrykowski) in Henryków Lubański

He survived the Piast, Jagiellonian, and Vasa dynasties, the anointment of kings, the partitions of Poland as well as the Second World War ...and he still lives on.

It is 1,300 years old. The growth rings within its trunk contain invaluable information on whether the summer during the year of the Battle of Zehden was a cool one, therefore limiting its growth; on whether the start of the Jagiellonian era saw a locust epidemic which robbed all plants of their leaves; on whether the 17th century was a mini “ice age” and on how the climate has changed over the last 1,300 years.

Poland marks the eastern border of the yew’s reach, ideal conditions for the yew are warm summers, a mild winter and regular rainfall that guarantees high humidity. Yews are somewhat rare in Poland.

Yews are dioecious trees, meaning that they have distinct male and female individual organisms or colonies. Most yews take on the form of a big shrub or a small tree up to 20 meters high. Their needles are dark green and bent like sabers. Its fruit is a little seed hidden in a meaty, blood-red parchment. The parchment seeds are the only non-poisonous part of the yew. All other parts of the tree are very toxic. Animals living in the forest, are immune to the poison.

The yew has left its mark on Polish history. Yew wood is dense, resilient and elastic – ideal for the building of
Crooked Forest

In a small corner of western Poland, near the town of Gryfino, there is a strange and eerie woodland. This unusual collection of curved trees was named the “Crooked Forest.” It consists of around 400 pine trees that grow with a 90-degree bend at their base, the vast majority of which are bent northward. Curiously, the Crooked Forest is surrounded by a larger forest of straight growing pine trees.

It is estimated that the trees were planted in the 1930s and that they were around 7-10 years old when they experienced whatever force that resulted in trunk bending. So what could have caused these trees to grow in this bizarre shape? No one indeed can explain, but there are a few theories.

Some believe that there were fluctuations in gravitational forces in the area, however, the force of gravity pulls objects down, not sideways.

The other theory is that heavy snow could have flattened the trees for an extended period while they were still young and flexible. However, it is difficult to explain why the Crooked Forest is surrounded by pine trees that are straight. It would have been a very unusual snowstorm to affect only one specific area of a forest.

Perhaps, during the German invasion of Poland in World War II, tanks plowed through the young forest, flattening the trees, so they grew back crooked. Again, why is only the small patch of pine trees affected?

Some suggest that the curves are human-made, given the fact that the trees are very consistent. Did local farmers plant and manipulate the trees for ultimate use as a construction material? Would anybody remember? Is it possible that war interrupted this activity, preventing the farmers from being able to finish the job and thus leaving this peculiar forest that we still see today? After all, the local town was devastated during the war and was not reestablished until the 1970s.

No one knows for sure what caused the bending of these trees, but they are worthy of visiting.
