President's Corner

June 2019

Dear Members,

As we get closer to the upcoming convention, it provides one the opportunity to reflect on the organization and how it has changed over the last 138 years. In the last few years, there have been more regulatory demands placed on fraternal and businesses than in several decades.

This coming August, we will be hosting our 48th Quadrennial Convention in Phoenix, Arizona. You can credit the history of our existence as an organization on the ability to keep up with the changes that have evolved over the years. Nowadays, we see changes occurring at an accelerated pace, and as an organization and management team, we need to accept them and incorporate them to best serve our members.

Our responsibility at the convention is to focus on the future and with an acceptance that our jobs are never actually done. My point is, an organization such as the Polish National Alliance dedicated to protecting the benefits of its members must maintain an attractive portfolio of products that is beneficial and competitive for a changing market.

The goal of any organization should not be simply to triumph today, but to build for tomorrow. Moreover, building for the future does not always require major innovations or call for new directions. It is often nothing but the difficult job of putting up the bits and pieces for the next storm, the next winds of change.

The fundamental values or principles this organization was founded upon, were pride in one's country, pride in the community, pride in our families and children, and pride in who we are. This is what makes us distinct. As a fraternal, we have a belief, that we all have a responsibility to help each other, based on the values of volunteerism, patriotism, and a belief in individualism.

At the last convention, many changes were introduced and implemented. At this convention, there will be numerous proposals presented to be compliant with the Department of Insurance and NAIC guidelines.

Since the last convention, there have been many topics which needed to be and were addressed. The Executive Committee, the Business Board, and Team Leaders have been focusing on matters head-on. One of many issues resonating in the industry has been that of cybersecurity. We're fortunate to have an excellent IT Department which monitors the security of information of our members continuously, and we can all rest assured we have a secure system.

Other topics of concern for insurance regulators are that of corporate governance, risk-based capital, disaster recovery procedures, and others. These will be some of the issues addressed at the convention.

Since the last convention, we have the offices and operation of the Polish Daily News (Dziennik Związkowy) relocated to offices of PNA, making it more efficient, accessible and more cost effective. Also, the offices and broadcast studios of our newly purchased FM radio station are also accommodated in the Home Office

On a fraternal side, we recognize the value of fraternal programs and activities and encourage our officers and members across the country to make a difference in communities, by being involved in various civic and fraternal programs.

The Home Office has sponsored National Bowling and Golfing Tournaments in various parts of the country encouraging members to participate. We are developing programs that can be of interest to our members and upcoming generations. This past June was the third Kids 4 Kids Walk campaign, which is primarily intended to encourage children to get involved and do something good for other less fortunate children, with proceeds earmarked for a children's organization. At the same time, local lodges and councils are encouraged to do similar programs.

For numerous years, the Polish National Alliance has been providing scholarships to college students based on their academic achievement and involvement in the community. Earlier in the month, a committee reviewed the applications which were submitted and selected the awardees. Congratulations to all our scholarship winners, who are the future of our society and leaders in our communities.

On a financial basis, the organization has assets of $432 million with the surplus increasing every year, doubling since the last convention, to an amount in excess of $22 million. The expenses are being closely monitored, fraternal programs are continuously subsidized, from language and dance groups to sports programs and scholarships.

The Office of National Secretary, Alicja Kuklinska has been preparing for the upcoming convention for several months to make sure that the convention will be efficient and productive. Over the last several years, conventions have become more efficient and have focused on business operations of the organization. This year, the convention is scheduled to start on Monday morning and conclude Wednesday at noon.

I want to congratulate all the newly elected representatives to the 48th PNA Convention in Phoenix. I am looking forward to seeing you in August!

Most Sincerely,

Frank J. Spula, FLMI
President and CEO

June 2019

My Fraternal Sisters and Brothers,

It is difficult to imagine that it has almost been four years since we assembled in Cleveland, OH, for the 47th Quadrennial National Convention. This span of time has been both favorable and eventful for the Alliance. All that has been accomplished has been done to strengthen the foundations of the Alliance further and bolster the future of the PNA for all its members.

The Polish National Alliance has assets of over $432M. Our surplus is above $22M. When two other accounts are combined with the surplus, we have about $35.3M in total unassigned funds. Thus, we can see the size, strength, and financial well-being of the PNA.

Remember the Great Recession of 2008, and its fallout and effects on the PNA. These circumstances brought the Alliance under the intense scrutiny of the Illinois Department of Insurance. During its thorough examination, the Department looked at just about every aspect and nuance of the PNA. It forced certain changes upon us and started a self-examination and internal introspection of the way we operate as a fraternal organization. Some of the guidelines followed were the increased regulations and compliance programs necessary, and the trend concerning future governance of Fraternal Societies.

Over the last four years, we have seen an excess of income over expenses every year: simply put a profit. This has led to an increase in surplus every year. The NAIC (National Association of Insurance Commissioners) has placed a great deal of emphasis on a particular financial statistic called the Risk-Based Capital Ratio. We have exceeded the recommended required ratio every year. It is quite essential to maintain a value above this required ratio; otherwise, we will be burdened by more stringent regulation and oversight.

Concerning the National Convention itself, the delegates will experience some changes which they may consider game-changing. This may be the first Convention which will not elect the President. The Business Board of Directors will now hire the President. This is a change which is following the recommended Governance trend in the Fraternal Society arena. The theory is that this will lessen the possibility of a candidate chosen out of popularity rather than ability. Please note that presently the Department of Insurance can deny an office to someone they feel is not qualified to run said office, usually meaning the President. The other National Officers (Censor, Vice-Censor, Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer) will still be elected by the Convention, as will the Business Board of Directors. The qualifications to run for these National Offices and Directors have been eased so that more individuals can run for these offices. As passed at the last Convention, the Fraternal Directors will be elected by the delegates from their particular Region.

As I stated earlier, the Illinois Department of Insurance, in its examination, decided that Commissioner will receive no salary, only expenses. With this as a background, the by-laws were amended to eliminate the Office of District Commissioner and replace them with the appointed position of District Coordinator, which will permit compensation for the position. Please note that the three-phase amending process for these changes was overwhelmingly approved.

One area that requires a great deal of attention is Membership and Sales. Its importance translates into a variety of fields each of which is vital to the general health of the Alliance. Sales provide members which are necessary to replace those who have passed from the scene, but also to grow the organization. These individuals will also provide the pool from which we can elect people who will provide the Leadership at all levels, from the National down through the Regional, District, and Council. This is one aspect that must not be overlooked. Sales also helps provide the needed revenue to fund all the mechanisms of the PNA both organizational and fraternal. Age and health have taken its toll on the Organizers and Sales Representatives who built this great organization. We have to come up with a plan to replace these great women and men and also expand into a professional sales force. We will survive, but we also want to grow and thrive.

Ladies and Gentlemen, the times are changing. Not that long ago, there were about 200 Fraternal Societies, and now there are less than 60. The NAIC and the Insurance Commissioners are burdening these Societies with more regulations and requiring compliance on more issues. The changes in our own governing structure were done in anticipation of the inevitable trend toward such suggested governance structures formulated by the NAIC. I believe the pro-active changes combined with our increasing financial strength provide a sound basis for our future.

I ask the Councils to send their delegates to convene in Phoenix, AZ on Aug. 25th through Aug. 28th for the 48th Quadrennial National Convention of the Polish National Alliance, where they can in a constructive, fraternal, and amicable way strenuously discuss, debate, and approve programs to ensure that we will be around to promote our heritage and pay the policies of our grandchildren and their grandchildren.

TOGETHER, WE CAN AND WE WILL

Dear Members,

This summer, the Home Office is super busy getting ready for the upcoming 48th Quadrennial Convention. At the same time, we are doing our best to provide PNA Members with the utmost customer service possible.

As the Delegates are getting ready for their trip to sunny Arizona, please keep in mind that successful organization and projects are the results of ideas coming from engaged members. You can communicate your ideas with the Delegates in your respective area, or make your suggestions or proposals to one of the Pre-Convention Committees for consideration.

Thank you to all who submitted articles and photographs for this issue of Zgoda. I appreciate your involvement and your journalistic efforts. Because of the space, I had to commit to the Convention, some materials are waiting for publishing in the next Zgoda issue, including our new members.

This will be my third PNA Convention, but for the first time, I will be attending it as an Officer of the Organization, carrying responsibility for its future. It is a great honor. I am proud to say that now my family is a 100% PNA family, like many of yours. I believe this is a matter of loyalty, and a mission to carry-on protecting our heritage and well-being in the United States.

Zgoda is a reflection of our lives, values, and commitment to something much bigger than we are. So please, be a part of history-making; keep sending articles, photos, and comments. Together - we can and we will make sure the PNA will thrive for next generations.

Respectfully,
Alicja Kuklińska
Editor-in-Chief

Arizona staje się ostatnimi laty punktem docelowym dla coraz większej ilości Amerykanów polskiego pochodzenia. Czyste powietrze, bezchmurne niebo, piękna architektura i zachwycająca natura przyciągają Polonię spragnioną przestrzeni i słońca. Phoenix i Tucson, to główne skupiska około 120-tysięcznej Polonii w tym stanie.

Arizona jest niezwykle interesującym skupiskiem różnych zjawisk geograficznych i kultur, które do połowy XIX wieku było własnością Meksyku i dopiero w 1912 stało się 48. stanem unii Stanów Zjednoczonych. Do słynnych atrakcji Arizony należą Wielki Kanion, Pustynia, Zapora Hoover, Jezioro Miodowe, Fort Apache, zrekonstruowany Most Londyński nad jeziorem Havasu City.

W dniach 25-28 sierpnia 2019, w Phoenix odbędzie się 48 Sejm Związku Narodowego Polskiego. W rękach 150 delegatów reprezentujących 10 regionów w Stanach Zjednoczonych znajdzie się po raz kolejny przyszłość organizacji, która od 1880 roku zabezpiecza finansowo swoich członków i ich rodziny i dba o pielęgnowanie polskiego dziedzictwa.

From the Manager of Sales

Dear Members,

Finally, warm weather is upon us! If you are like me, I bet you thought spring would never get here. Now that it has arrived with the 48th PNA Convention being just around the corner, I would like to provide you with information on what we arranged for you.

I am happy to reveal that we have two annuity plans available:

A 5-year Single Premium Tax Deferred Annuity has a guaranteed rate of 3.15% for the full term. This plan is really growing in popularity, it allows only a one-time deposit, of at least $5,000. More information about our annuity plan is provided on the following page.

If you are not able to deposit $5,000 at once, then consider opening an 8-year Annuity with a 3.00% return guaranteed for the first year and a minimum deposit of $500. Not only is this the right way of growing your savings with a high rate of return, but also provides you with a tax-deferred advantage that might be very beneficial when filing your tax returns.

Keep in mind that PNA can offer you:

Traditional IRA that allows an income tax deduction for amounts contributed.

Roth IRA, your money grows tax-free. The contribution limits are the same as the Traditional IRA, but they are based on your modified adjusted gross income.

Non-Qualified Annuity (including Single Premium Annuity), is a tax-favored plan allowing you to save money with the advantage of tax-deferred earnings.

Special message for PNA Sales Representatives!

Don't miss the opportunity to participate in exclusive contests. You can reach your goals, earn extra money, and be recognized for your efforts. This opportunity presents itself only every four years. Please contact PNA Membership Department.

You should be one step ahead when purchasing a life insurance plan because time really matters. For a 30-year old and 50-year old female in good health, the premium amount for permanent policy for $150K and Accidental Rider $150K increases from $98.55 to $219.38. If you are thinking, talking or contemplating providing protection for your family, yourself, or others, now is the time to purchase life insurance. Do not procrastinate, do it now!

I compared the PNA life insurance premiums to three major life insurance companies, and I have to report to you that our premiums are lower than theirs.

If you would like to receive our comparison report, please let me know.

I would like to wish you a wonderful summer, and I hope that you will make the right decision by protecting your family. All you need to do is call the PNA Sales Representative or reach us at the Home Office by phone at 1-800-621-3723 ext. 330 or 344, or by email info@pna-znp.org

PNA Song and Dance Concert 2019

The Polish National Alliance hosted the annual Song and Dance Concert on March 17, 2019. The performances took place in Lake Zurich High School Performing Arts Center. All of the participating groups made a total of about 400 performers. Most of the ensembles were from Chicago and suburbs.

Before the concert's opening, the president of the PNA, Frank Spula, shared his enthusiasm for the youths' hard work and dedication in promoting Polish culture. He wished them continued successes.

For over three hours, the colorful, folkloric costumes and songs transported the audience to several different parts of Poland. Gorals, Silesians, Podlachians, and Kashubians were just a few of the represented cultures.

The participating groups were "Gaik and Gaiczek," "Gwiazdki," "Hejnał," "Lajkonik," "Polanie, Wiślanie, Gopłanie," "Przepióreczka," "Vera," "Syrenka," "Świtezianie," "Wiśła i Mała Wiśła," "Szepty," "Wici," and "Żaki."

Magdalena Solarz was the concert director, and Jarosław Sokołowski was the music director. At the end of the successful concert, Solarz thanked all of the groups and invited everyone to attend next year's concert. The audience applauded vigorously.

All proceeds were dedicated to the artistic cultivation of all participating groups.

Many employees from both PNA and Dziennik Związkowy volunteered to help with registration, serving pizza and refreshments, and hosting booths where they gave away memorabilia linked to the company. A Royal Evening

Debutantes, Squires, Escorts and Planning Committee of the PNA District X 2019 Royal Presentation Ball

On Saturday, May 4, 2019, the Polish National Alliance District X and the District X Women's Division held a Royal Presentation Ball at the American Polish Cultural Center in Troy, Michigan. Sixteen debutantes and squires were honored. Over three hundred guests were welcomed to the venue that was elegantly decorated in the peacock colors. The banquet facility was decorated under the artistic direction of Darin Lenhardt.

Thomas M. Schemanski, District X Commissioner and Christine Kryszko, Women's Division Treasurer, welcomed the guests in English and Polish. They both acknowledged the pride the District had for all of the debutantes and squires and their accomplishments. National Censor, Wesley Musial, extended greetings on behalf of President Frank Spula and all the PNA elected officers. He mentioned the pride PNA had for the debs and squires, and their successes in many areas.

Fraternal Director, Stella Szczesny, also extended greetings to all in attendance. She acknowledged the parents and their participation. She also acknowledged the debs and squires and escorts for their participation in practices and their commitment. Several of the debs, squires, and escorts were not members of dance groups, and they did a fantastic job in learning the evening's dance program.

Debutant Caroline Raczkowski sang the Polish National Anthem and a very moving rendition of the National Anthem of the U. S.

Choreographers Thomas A. Schemanski, Kasia A. Reese & Darin Lenhardt

Barbara J. Gronet, Janice Favot, Christine Kryszko, and Stella Szczesny introduced each debutant, squire and their parents. Every mother was presented with a beautiful rose. The Debutantes were: Sabrina Babinski, Rachael Baritche, Zofia Bochenek, Anna Cote, Elizabeth Cote, Kathryn Grytzelius, Alicia Hausz, Victoria Jedruszko, Alyssa McMahon, Helaina Motts, Caroline Pietron, Caroline Raczkowski, Victoria Raczkowski, Isabella Szyndlar, Elena Wioncek, and Abigail Wrzesinski. The Squires were: Ryan Beier, Daniel Cooper, Krystian Dembowski, Julijan Garbek, Darek Hausz, Robert Hausz, and Joseph Michalak. Escorts included Lucas Bochenek, Chris Cooper, Matthew Biddle, Joseph Smigiel, Mikolaj Sobiesiuk, Alexander Szyndlar, Maximillian Chabowski, and Donovan Baker.

The sixteen couples took to the floor and performed a beautiful Polonaise, choreographed by Kasia A. Reese and Darin Lenhardt. The music was from the movie "Pan Tadeusz" composed by Wojciech Kilar. The Polonaise was followed by the Waltz "Tredowata" also by Wojciech Kilar and choreographed by Thomas A. Schemanski.

Following the dances, Commissioner Thomas M. Schemanski and National Censor Wesley Musial got back to work. The Commissioner handed out gifts to all the debs and squires, and the Censor awarded each with a medal from the National Office. The gifts were funded by PNA District X & Women's Division, PNA Councils 54, 122, & 170, as well as Lodges: 53, 1758, 2525, & 2821.

Debutante Rachael Baritche and Squire Daniel Cooper

With the evenings' formalities completed, Mrs. Ann Bankowski, President of the Polish American Congress, Michigan Division, provided the invocation before the meal. The guests then enjoyed a delicious four-course meal followed by a "Sweets" table, offering numerous delectable choices.

Following the meal, the debs, squires, and all the guests danced late into the evening to the music of "Oni."

The evening would not have been such a memorable event had it not been for the tireless dedication and teamwork of the Presentation Ball Committee: Joan Baritche, Jerome Brzezinski, Jan Favot, Barbara J. Gronet, Christine Kryszko, Edward Nizienski, Francine Nizienski, Thomas M. Schemanski, Stella G. Szczesny.

The evening was not only a celebration of the young men and ladies but also a celebration of their families, our Polish heritage, traditions and the work in the spirit of fraternalism that is the hallmark of PNA District X.

Monika Korczyńska, Elżbieta Górnikiewicz

Secretary Roberta Gols then recited a special blessing, followed by a prayer before dinner. After dinner, Master of Ceremonies, Walter Bochenek, spoke about St. Joseph, his trade as a Carpenter being that of a true artisan, a skilled craftsman, which is how he provided for the Holy Family. He added that among our guests this evening were many craftsmen from the Polish American Contractors and Builders Association, with St. Joseph being their patron saint. Mr. Bochenek then invited guests named Joseph and Josephine to come forward, after which each received a bottle of wine on behalf of Council 3 in honor of their Feast Day.

Mr. Bochenek introduced members of the Polish National Alliance Dance Studio, organized by Elizabeth Stolarczuk to entertain the guests. One dance featured the performers in elegant ballroom attire and another featured modern dance steps. Their performance was breathtaking.

Master of Ceremonies Bochenek presided over the raffle of beautiful springtime baskets, which was followed by a "Split the Pot" cash raffle. Congratulations to our lucky winners!

Special thanks for the dedicated efforts of our organizing committee, which included Elizabeth Stolarczuk, Walter Bochenek, Monika Korczynska, Elzbieta Gornikiewicz, Joseph Lisak, Daniel and Roberta Gols, Joseph and Irene Hercik.

Tłusty Czwartek a Huge, Tasty Success

Think Mardi Gras, and you'll be on your way to getting it. It's "Fat Tuesday" with a twist – it's on the Thursday before Fat Tuesday! Each year in Poland, in anticipation of the sacrifices and fasting involved with the Liturgical Season of Lent, we would prepare with a feast of pączki. These light and airy Polish doughnuts are made from a yeast dough, fried to golden perfection filled with just the right amount of a delicate, seasonal-fruit jam. After being glazed, these beauties are ready for consumption!

This year, on February 28th, Lodge 339, with the gracious and much appreciated help of Lodges 238 and 918, sponsored the first annual "Pączki Day at the PNA" in the Council 21 Lounge. Starting at 3 p.m., the members offered attendees pączki, chruściki, food platters with homemade bigos and kielbasa, and drink specials on a variety of Polish beers, Krupnik, and mixes made with Polish vodkas. By 7 p.m. the pączki were sold out, and by 10 p.m. the chruściki and the platters were also sold out.

As the event got underway, it reminded me of my childhood in Poland. Every year I would make pączki with my mother as so many others did, but for those who didn't have that option, they would wait in line at the local bakery for theirs. It seemed like they tasted better at this time of year, but maybe that was because we looked forward to it so much. Every bakery in the city had lines until they were sold out, and that's precisely how Pączki Day at the PNA was this year. I'm so glad that we were able to put together this event to share one of the many genuinely beautiful cultural traditions of Poland, and I'm delighted that so many people came to enjoy it.

Attendees, which included members, guests and those who happened to see the information on Facebook, were also able to enjoy a visit to the PNA Henryk Sienkiewicz Polonia Library, where librarian Adam Mazurek showed short films and entertained guests. In the Lounge, guests were also able to learn all about PNA membership, events and activities, and about membership in other Polish organizations.

Members of all Polish organizations in the Baltimore area were invited to attend as guests and as information ambassadors. They were able to share literature on a beautifully decorated display table and talk about membership in their respective organizations. PNA was pleased to welcome officers and members of Polish Home Club, Polish Heritage Association of Maryland, Ojczyzna Polish Dancers, Polish Legion of American Veterans, Krakowiaki Dancers, and the National Katyń Memorial Foundation, as well as PNA's cooking and language classes. To add blessings to the event, joining in the festivities were Father Ryszard Czerniak of Holy Rosary, Father Mike Orchik from Shrine of the Little Flower, and Father Andrzej Bieganowski of Holy Cross Polish National Catholic Church, who was accompanied by his wife, Ewa Bieganowska.

Polish organizations, clergy, Poles, and Polonia coming together to celebrate culture as one big Polish family is what this type of celebration is all about, and it was with everyone's attendance and a great deal of help that this event was able to become such an incredible success!

National Bowling Tournament 2019

Las Vegas, Nevada - The PNA's 73rd National Bowling Tournament was held this year on April 28, 29 and 30, 2019 in Las Vegas, Nevada. Bowlers gathered at the Gold Coast Casino's bowling center for their assigned squads.

The singles and doubles events took place on Sunday and Tuesday morning and afternoon. The teams bowled on Monday. For the first time in PNA tournament history, a delay on the start of Saturday's second squad was due to a severe thunderstorm which knocked out the power in the bowling alley and casino, as well as the surrounding hotels in the area.

The opening ceremonies took place in between the bowling of the two team squads. Fraternal Coordinator, Mary Srodon welcomed the bowlers, thanked the management of the Gold Coast Bowl and their staff for the terrific job they did for the tournament. She then introduced Vice President Marian Grabowski, who also spoke and introduced the dignitaries attending: PNA Business Board Directors, Jeff Twardy and Val Pawlos, Fraternal Director, Greg Chilecki, PNA Commissioner, Wanda Juda (District 13), former Director Anna Wierzbicki, and former Commissioner of District 12, Jerry Hejna, President of Las Vegas Lodge 3281, Piotr Nowinski and Director of Polish School, Ela Youngman. Fraternal Director Greg Chilecki and Vice President Marian Grabowski threw out the ceremonial first ball to officially start the tournament.

We would like to thank all of the bowlers who participated in the tournament and hope they enjoyed their time in Las Vegas.

Back to School with PNA

Special offer for students August 15, 2019 – October 15, 2019

Why should you protect your child with Polish National Alliance?

1. Future Insurability

Buying permanent life insurance for your child ensures the availability of coverage later in life. You do not know if your child will develop a disability or chronic illness later in life, making it hard, if not impossible, to get life insurance.

2. Affordability

The premium cost will be much lower for a child compared to similar insurance purchased later in life. A permanent form of life insurance can lock in a low premium that's guaranteed never to increase over your child's lifetime.

3. Cash Value

Permanent life insurance builds cash value. It can be used for your child in the future for such things as college tuition or certificate loan.

4. PNA Membership

What separates us from a commercial life insurance company are the fraternal benefits. PNA provides scholarships for undergraduate and graduate students and subsidizes Polish Language Schools throughout the country. Those are just a few fraternal benefits PNA has to offer. Insure your children so that they can participate in the PNA Scholarship Award Program.

Back to School with PNA will start on August 15, 2019 and last until October 15, 2019

Details on this special offer will be available in August 2019. Contact your local sales representative or PNA

We are proud of

Joseph Carter EAGLE SCOUT

Joseph Carter, member of PNA Lodge 3203, grandson of Alfreda Russell, recently achieved scouting's highest rank of Eagle Scout.

For his Eagle Project, Joseph designed, planned and directed the construction and installation of three unique flag retirement drop boxes, placed throughout the community to allow 24-hour access for drop off of flags needing retirement. He worked with three beneficiaries for placement of these boxes: the city of Hoover, AL, Prince of Peace Church where Joseph is a parishioner, and Alabama Veterans Memorial Park. Since completion in early November 2018, well over 250 flags have been collected for proper retirement. Joseph worked with Troop 21 to design and implement a system so that the scouts serving in the Historian position of responsibility will collect the flags from all three drop boxes each month and record the number collected in a permanent record at the hut. The project should serve the community for many years as well as provide a monthly responsibility and accountability for each troop Historian during the six-month position of responsibility period.

Just recently, Joseph was awarded the Patriotic Service Award from the Knights of Columbus, Fourth Degree, in recognition of his Eagle project. His project took 343 work hours from more than 34 volunteers and cost approximately $1,000. Joseph was responsible for raising the money for the project as well.

Joseph will be a senior at Hoover High School. He is a member of the National Honor Society, a key bowler on the varsity bowling team, and is taking AP classes at the high school. Congratulations, Joseph, for a job well done.

30 - lecie Zespołu "Polonez"

Członkowie grupy „Polonez” oraz dostojni goście jubileuszu: (stoją l-p): Grzegorz Chilecki, Ignacy Żarski, Jarostaw Musiał. Zdjęcie: Arek Kajdas Grupa Taneczna „Polonez” powstała w 1989 roku, w San Diego w południowej Kalifornii. Ponad rok czasu zajęło Ewie Chrzanowskiej, aby zebrać ludzi, którzy chcieliby poświęcić swój czas na tańce i działalność społeczną. Ci zapaleńcy, dumni ze swego pochodzenia i gotowi do pracy na rzecz propagowania polskich tradycji to: Ewa i Bogdan Cichoccy, Barbara i Ryszard Chrzanowscy, Barbara i Artur Bojer, Stasia Witkowska, Regina Niemirowska, Ania i Andrzej Krzyż, Andrzej Piotrowski, Jerry Beck, Jacek Zwierzchaczewski, Jadwiga Koźnierzak, Malgorzata i Piotr Jek.

Pierwsza choreograf zespołu, Barbara Bojar prowadziła próby w Polish American Association w San Diego, który przez wiele lat był bazą Poloneza. W Maju 1990, z okazji Konstytucji 3 Maja, odbył się pierwszy występ. Polonez zaczął również występować w Yorba Linda, Los Angeles, San Francisco i Las Vegas.

Z upływem czasu oraz w miarę powiększania funduszy, zespół kupował nowe stroje i sprzęt muzyczny. Bardzo ważną dla zespołu była decyzja o przystąpieniu do Związku Narodowego Polskiego, największej organizacji polonijnej, która nadal pomaga grupie finansowo. Szkolenia choreografów w Orchard Lake organizowane przez PNA, były wspaniałym sposobem na naukę od najlepszych w branży i dzielenia się doświadczeniami z innymi grupami.

W 2002 roku zespół zasiłowała Ewa Stanisławska, która mając doskonałe przygotowanie baletowe z Polski, wzbogaciła repertuar grupy o inne style tańca. Dziesięć lat później powstał Mały Polonez, który prowadzi Ewa Sejbak, doskonała tancerka dorosłej grupy, której asystowała Natalia Barnas, dziś choreograf grupy dorosłych.

Przy wspaniałej okazji jubileuszy 30-lecia, musimy wymienić kilka osób, które szczególnie zasłużyły się dla zespołu; jego filary Ewę i Bogdan Cichockich, Alicję Mogolską, która uszyła stroje z epoki Księstwa Warszawskiego oraz Joannę Stypułkowską, która uszyła stroje dla Małego Poloneza, Wandę Augustyniak, która z wojskową skrupulatnością pomaga w wielu dziedzinach, Aleksandrę Barnaś, pomagającą przy występach, Halinę Orlof, która dojrzy w tłumie każdego potencjalnego tancerza.

Dziękujemy Domkowi Polskiemu w Balboa Parku w San Diego, a szczególnie Zbyszkowi Gałazce za poparcie w finansowaniu sali do prób, Konsulatowi RP w Los Angeles i Ignacemu Żarskiemu, ze możemy korzystać z przywilejów dofinansowania grup krzewiących kulturę polską w USA.

Dziękujemy Związkowi Narodowemu Polskiemu, który od lat pomaga finansowo grupie, oraz dyrektorowi Regionu „J” Grzegorzowi Chileckiemu.

W przeciągu 30 lat tańczyło w „Polonezie” przeszło 100 osób i prawie tyle w różny sposób pomagało. 3 marca 2019 roku odbył się Bal Jubileuszowy, który był podsumowaniem zarówno dotychczasowych osiągnięć zespołu jak i początkiem do dalszych.

Życzę tancerzom wytrwałości i radości z ich pracy. Raz jeszcze dziękuję wszystkim i zapraszam do tańca.

“Poland: The Royal Tour” premiere took place at the Chicago Lyric Opera on April 16. Before the screening, the guests warmly welcomed Peter Greenberg, an award-winning American journalist, traveler, and co-producer of “The Royal Tour.” Polish National Foundation was the film’s sponsor. Also present at the event was Polish producer Piotr C. Śliwowski.

Polish Prime Minister Mateusz Morawiecki was the honorary guest, and as the audience, it was his first viewing of this film. In the film, he educates US visitors, such as Greenberg, on Poland’s booming economy, history, culture, tourist attractions, and natural beauty. The film shows, among others: Warsaw, Malbork, Kraków, Wrocław, a salt mine in Wieliczka, former German Nazi extermination camp Auschwitz-Birkenau, Gdynia, and Hel. “I wish for those who see the ‘Poland: The Royal Tour’ to see a country that takes pride in not only its history, but also one that has a bright future,” Morawiecki says in the film. After the screening, Morawiecki expressed hope that the film would be an excellent promotion for a country still haunted by history. He confessed that one of the biggest challenges for him was choosing a select few places in Poland, among so many worthy of exposure.

The Polish National Alliance was a broadcast sponsor of the “Poland: The Royal Tour” on WTTW.

Śniadanie z Jagiełłą

W tym roku minęło 20 lat od pierwszego wielkanocnego śniadania u stóp pomnika króla Władysława Jagiełły w Parku Centralnym na Manhattanie. Inicjatorką imprezy była Uta Szczerba, znana w nowojorskim środowisku polonijnym projektantka kapeluszy. Po latach dołączył Janusz Szlechta, pisarz, były redaktor „Nowego Dziennika”, a niedawno organizację plenerych śniadań przy pomniku Jagiełły przejęła Elżbieta Śmieszek.

Śniadania w koszykach przynoszą ze sobą uczestnicy, chociaż zawsze znajdzie się również sponsor wspomagający jedzeniem. Wokół pomnika rozkładane są białe obrusy, a na nich, w koszykach święconka. Naturalnie, do dyspozycji są również talerzyki, sztucce, szklaneczki. Gdy wszystko jest już pięknie ułożone, a uczestnicy skupieni, ksiądz odmawia modlitwę i błogosławi pokarm. W tym roku błogosławieństwa dokonał ks. Andrzej.

Zanim jednak uczestnicy śniadania trafią pod pomnik mogą również wziąć udział w paradzie kapeluszy na Piątej Alei. I myliłby się ktoś myśląc, że tylko panie biorą w niej udział. Fantazyjne kapelusze lubią i zakładają również mężczyźni.

Pod pomnikiem każdy się częstuje jadłem i składa wielkanocne życzenia, komu ma ochotę. Spotykają się starzy bywalczy i ludzie nowi. Ktoś czyta wiersze, ktoś inny śpiewa, rozmawia, wspomina. Oczywiście jest miejsce i potrzeba wspólnej fotografii. Głównym fotografem happeningu jest Zosia Bobrowska, absolwentka Politechniki Krakowskiej, której zdjęcia można oglądać na rokrocznie przygotowywanej wystawie przy pomniku króla Jagiełły.

Przybyli na śniadanie z Jagiełłą ludzie cieszą się swoją obecnością długo po spożyciu zawartości koszyków. Smutno się rozstawać, a kolejne takie śniadanie dopiero za rok.

Fryderyk Dammont, wielokrotny bywalec śniadań i przyjaciel autora, urodzony w Krakowie doktor chemii, zamiatowany podróżnik, fotograf i koneser muzyki klasycznej, który w wieku 96 lat jest wzorem aktywności, w towarzystwie uroczych uczestniczek parady kapeluszy i śniadania.

“Dziennik Związkowy” saved!

On March 27th, an official handover of the oldest issue of “Dziennik Związkowy” (Polish Daily News) from 1908 took place at the headquarters of the Polish National Alliance. Two carefully secured volumes of the newspapers were brought to Chicago by Director of Institute of National Remembrance (IPN) Archivist Grzegorz Trzyna and Head of the Archival Resources Management Department at the IPN Archives Dr Marzena Kruk. Those in attendance included the Publisher of “Dziennik Związkowy,” PNA President Frank Spula, National Secretary Alicja Kuklińska, Editor-in-Chief of the newspaper Alicja Otap and Grzegorz Dziedzic, editor and restoration project coordinator.

“I can't find words to express my gratitude for saving our archived legacy,” said President Spula. Without the help of the IPN, the oldest issue would likely be destroyed with time. Only the very first issues of “Dziennik Związkowy” were returned to Chicago, in accordance to an agreement between IPN. The rest of the archives will remain in Warsaw and will be placed in safe conditions.

The digital archives of “Dziennik Związkowy” will be available for all researchers, historians, or history buffs. The 110-year-old newspaper is an incredibly rich source of historical, sociological, and linguistic knowledge. Information about Chicago Polonia now has a chance to reach a wider audience.

Pomerania - Baltic Shores of Poland

From the shores of the Baltic Sea to the rocky Carpathians, Poland offers tourist attractions that should not be missed. Rich history, stunning scenery, hidden treasures ...

The cleanest beaches being in the heart of Central Europe is certainly not the first association for many people. In fact, one of the most vibrant beaches and the most important trading ports is located in northwestern Poland. While touring through the Pomeranian Voivodship, we read about the southern Baltic shores witnessing a centuries-long conflict of borderlines between Poland and Germany, first incepted in the thirteenth century. From the sword-wielding Teutonic Knights and Vikings to the very first strikes of World War II's sniper fire, the Pomeranian region is one of history's most vital organs. A large part of the region is home to the Kashubians, one of the oldest Slavic ethnic groups with their own language and influence on local culture. Passing through the villages and cities you will see signs featuring both languages. Known as one of Poland's most economically flourishing regions with fertile land and mirror-glass lakes, here are just some of the many places worth a visit.

GDAŃSK

Gdansk is a must-see city in Poland. It is a city that was fought over throughout centuries for its prosperous amber trade and sea ports. Known today also, as the capital of Pomerania. As the fourth-largest metropolitan area, it has tremendous historical significance for becoming a symbol of the Polish resistance. One of these areas is where World War II's first machine gunfire struck terror in Gdansk's peninsula, Westerplatte. To this day, visitors can stand among the haunting, skeletal remains of buildings once accompanied in terror. Detailed accounts of this event can be learned at the Museum of the Second World War that was established in 2017. Still on the minds of many people, today is the Solidarity Movement that inspired thousands of factory workers to demand more rights, one of them being the right to strike.

Escaping the heart-wrenching history of the city is not too far of a ride. The city's old town has become a symbol, especially for pamphlet writers or tourists, which is no wonder since the streets are full of excitement. The architectural style of long, colorful houses that can easily be mistaken for being in Amsterdam or Copenhagen. Performance artists, jugglers, dancers, or even human-statues take part in elaborate shows. Standing among the celebrations is a seventeenth-century statue of the Roman God of the Sea, Neptune.

EMIGRATION MUSEUM GDYNIA

The Emigration Museum is a must-see for all of Polonia. It is the very first museum in Poland dedicated to the history of Polish Emigration. Located among a historical port in Gdynia, the museum was established in 2012 and has since garnered popularity. Each exhibition is showcasing different phases in history. You can learn about the Marine Station from where Polish people left for new land or hear about the fates of millions, both famous and anonymous. As immigrants, we are challenged to question how we can preserve our culture and understand the struggles of what the current age might bring.

SOPOT

Sopot is a modern town connected between Gdańsk and Gdynia that together forms a Tri-City. The town is an excellent attraction for those wishing to walk among the entirely pedestrian area of Monte Cassino, also known as Monciak, or stroll through a vibrant beach with summer concerts playing in the background. The town is home to the longest wooden pier in Europe that is 0.3 miles long and reaches the Bay of Gdańsk. Completed in 1827, the pier is divided into two parts. One part is a wooden jetty trail and the second part is on land where many events take place.

MALBORK CASTLE

Malbork is a town that is best known for its amazing architecture. The town's jewel is its castle established by the Knights of the Teutonic Order that attracts tourists from all over the world. In 1997, UNESCO placed the castle on the official list of World Heritage sites. The Malbork castle is considered to be the largest castle in the world.

BYTÓW

Bytów is a town located in the heart of the Kashubian region. The earliest entry of the town's name, "Bütow" comes from 1321 back when it was a part of Germany. The completion of the Teutonic castle was documented around 1398. However, it was not until 1410, under the rule of Władysław II Jagiełło, that Bytów officially became a part of Poland and remained so for many years, even becoming a stronghold for Pomeranian dukes. The gothic structure is prided as the town's symbol. The medieval object is the hotspot for summer concerts, knight battles, and an exclusive hotel. The town is flourishing with renovation projects, including its towns centre and it is also home to Drutex, Europe's leading manufacturers of windows, doors, and shutters.

WĘSIORY STONE CIRCLES

Węsiory is a village located in "Kashubian Switzerland." Hidden amongst one of the surrounding forests is a mysterious area with hundreds of stones hedged together. Located on the northern shores of Jezioro Długie (Long Lake) is "Polish Stonehedge." Established in approximately 1,000 B.C., many researchers and locals still cannot pinpoint the exact origins of these stone circles. However, after intensive archaeological research in the fifties it was discovered that the area was visited by people from an island just outside of Sweden called Gotland. It is also a burial site of 110 people. Nowadays, many claim that the rocks have healing properties.

USTKA

Ustka is an important coastal town that is famous for its health resorts and beaches split by the Stupia River. To the east is the largest beach, located near the city centre, and it features one of the highest touristic hotspots in the country. First lit in 1892, a lighthouse guides the port's entrance way for many goods and Baltic travel. One of the town's biggest architectural wows is one that inspires legends and myths, it is an unfinished pier that began construction sometime at the beginning of World War II. Not far from the pier, is a statue of the town's symbol, a mermaid, which stares at the distant waters. An annual event worth checking out in July is International Contest of Fireworks.

MECHOWO CAVES

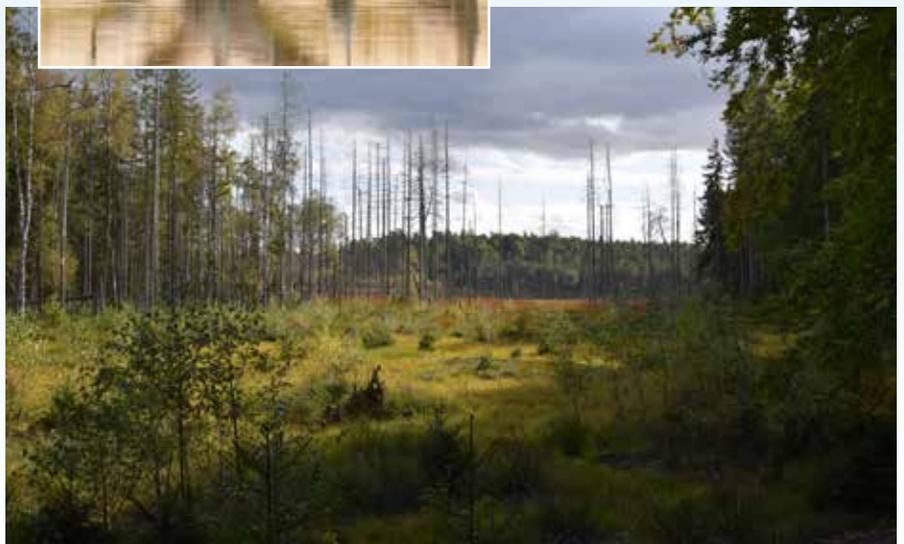

The Mechowo caves are an excellent stop during a hot summer's day that is conveniently located near a beach area. Many of the caves are no taller than three feet, so many children may attempt to climb or slide through them! The area was considered a monument of nature as it is an excellent product of water erosion.

ŻURAWIE CHRUSTY

Żurawie Chrusty is one of Poland's most incredible 0.08 square mile long forest preserves. Known for its preservation of bog land, the lake's aesthetic has become a symbol both locally and abroad. An acid reaction causes the lake's unique brown coloring. There are at least 50 different plant types, with 4 of them being nearly extinct.

The Perseverance of Kashubia

History

KASZEBÈ

The Kashubian land encompasses most of Pomerania, particularly the western part. For many locals today, pinpointing where the land starts or ends, or which city is considered the capital is a matter of debate. Who exactly are the Kashubians, and where do they come from? The earliest mention of this name appeared in 1238. Pope Gregory I referred to Bogislaw I as the Duke of Kashubia. During the years of Swedish Pomerania, the Dukes of Pomerania would adapt the titles of “Duke of (the) Kashubia (ns).” However, it is not clear whether Kashubians were named after their land or if the land was named after the people. One thing is certain; they are one of the oldest Slavic tribes to date. In the fifteenth century, the name Kaszuby (Kashubians) was officially recognized in the Polish language and it was used to describe people living in the Gdańsk territory. Throughout the ongoing centuries, the borders would repetitively shift from a period of Teutonic to Polish rule and eventual Prussian decree.

Regardless of the many historical events involving discrimination, many Kashubians embraced Polish identity while also retaining their unique customs and traditions. As a result of the Treaty of Versailles in 1920, most of what is considered Kashubian land today became Polish. Throughout the years, their identity gradually began fading away. After 1945, what is considered modern-day Kashubia was established, but many of them faced oppression from both Germany and Russia through forced assimilation and prejudice. There were also those who were sent away to labor camps in faraway Russia. These dire times inflamed the revival of their language, culture, and myths.

Language

The Kaszëbsczi (Kaszubian) language began forming around the fourteenth century. Even though the language is considered to be in the western Slavic group, several words were adapted from German,

Swedish, Russian, and Polish. In 2005, it officially became a regional language. The total number of ethnic Kashubians is believed to be about 500,000 or 570,000 with only about 100,000 that speak it at home on a daily basis. Each village also has its distinct dialect. Most people in the region cannot fully speak the language, but the linguistic influence is greatly felt. Among all ages, it is very common to hear jo (yo) being said on the streets instead of the standard tak. There are other commonly used regional phrases. For example, jest lichò translates to “It is bad.” The phrase also indirectly references a Slavic demon named Licho, the bringer of bad fortune. A potato, a food of great importance is called a bulwa (read bul-vah). Also, a young woman will be a bretka. In recent years, many radio stations, television programs, or even college studies have been funded as a means of preserving the standard language. One giveaway on whether or not you are in the Kashubian region will be its road signs: the Kashubian name will be written underneath the Polish one.

Culture & Customs

Regardless of the many years of border shifting that often resulted in Germanization or Polonization, the Kashubian culture was never entirely lost. One of the strengthening blocks of their identity is religion. While passing through villages, it is not uncommon to see historical churches adorning the black and yellow Kashubian flag often seen alongside the black, crowned griffin.

After World War II, ethnographers tried their very best to reconstruct the folk dress. During folkloric celebrations, men wear leather boots, black hats, white shirts, white pants, and jackets. The women often wear velvet bodices embroidered in golden or silver thread, red corals, exquisite corsets, white linen aprons, and like their male counterparts, they commonly wear black leather boots and white shirts. In the northern part, the dominant color is blue. In the middle and southern parts of Kashubia, the colors include green, brown, and yellow.

It is hard to miss the unique embroidery that commonly appears on buildings, clothing, furniture, or anything else possible. There is a total of seven colors, with each one representing a regional element: mauve-blue characterizes the sea, blue is the clear sky, yellow symbolizes the ripe fields of grain, green reminds of the miles of trees, black represents the fertile grounds, and lastly, red signifies the blood that the Kashubians are willing to spill for their nation.

The region is also known for its distinctive customs and traditions. Traditional ceramic art is important to the local economy, and the growth in its popularity has resulted in a surge of international buyers. The elaborate designs of wooden sculptures can also be seen along roadside chapels. The wood is carved into an instrument that resembles a double bass called burczybas. One unique custom includes the use of snuff. When a Kashubian man wishes to befriend someone he will share some of the product. In recent years, the custom has seen a decline in popularity. A tradition that has been preserved is the “empty night,” which is a night dedicated to personal prayer for a departed loved one before the funeral. The prayer was traditionally held in the departed one’s house, often accompanied by a hymn.

Legend about the Beginning

Before God created Adam and Eve, he made sure that the world he finished forming was ideal. Each area on Earth was assigned an angel. One day, an Angel named Kashub began weeping to God because his land was an endless desert not fit for life. He begged for the curse to be lifted. A golden pouch with special sand was given by God. When Kashub used it on his land, forests sprouted, and animals appeared. Centuries later, when the first people arrived, the land told them that they are standing on Kashubian land named after their guardian angel, Kashub.

Westerplatte – A Symbol of the Polish Resistance

On September 1st, 1939, the dusk began to overcome the night's darkness slowly. That fall launch set off a chain reaction of tumultuous times for millions of people decades later. At approximately 4:45 am, the German Schleswig-Holstein battleship opened fire at the Polish Military Transit Depot (Wojskowa Składnica Tranzytowa) on the peninsula of Westerplatte Fort in Gdańsk. This year, the first military strikes of the Second World War will mark its eightieth anniversary.

The Poles tightly held on to their machine guns in the earliest hours of battle. Their opponents had to face the well-placed barbed wire and mines. The German gun emplacements in warehouses across the harbor channels were destroyed. Although surrounded by attackers, the Poles refused to step outside their guardhouses despite suffering losses. On the second day, 60 Stuka dive-bombers dropped more than 26 tons of bombs that collapsed one of the guardhouses' roofs. Just as the smoke slowly began to clear, food and medicine became scarce.

Britain and France would soon officially declare war on Germany, but no help would ever come. A total of two torpedo boats fired 80 shells for the next hours. On September sixth, a forest was set ablaze after anti-tank missiles hit a train with an oil-filled cistern sent by the Germans.

Adolf Hitler was sure that the invasion on the Baltic peninsula would be an easy victory. Yet, the Battle of Westerplatte lasted a week long, and it would have lasted even longer if it were not for the Polish military's lack of ammunition and external support. Major Henryk Sucharski announced surrender on September 7th at around 9:45 am. The Polish Radio would continuously repeat: "Westerplatte fights on!"

It was dubbed into the "Polish Thermopylae," since it showcased the diligence of a little over 200 defenders against nearly 3,400 German soldiers. Despite being the outnumbering force, the German army suffered heavy losses. They lost the equipment of an entire armored division and 25% of its air strength. An estimated 300-400 of them were killed or wounded compared to about 15 to 20 killed and 53 wounded on the Polish side. Among the Polish casualties was a radio operator executed for refusing to disclose radio codes. At the end, the defenders were saluted by the German army for their adversary. Sucharski kept his saber.

Regardless of Poland's surrender on that day, Home Army (Armia Krajowa) and Forest People (Leśni) would bravely fight throughout the war. In 1966, the Westerplatte Monument honoring the defenders was unveiled.

Pursuit of Happiness

Some experts claim that happiness is a choice and conduct research studies in order to prove that is the case. Other experts cite the choice-factor, claiming that happiness is an experience. We wish others a happy birthday, happy anniversary, and all sorts of happiness. But what exactly is happiness? It is an individual's perception that s/he is happy. What makes you happy, may not always make another person happy. Overtime, life may throw in some curve balls at you, making it difficult to experience joy during those moments. If you try to face the "curve" with the mindset that "this too shall pass," then the situation will be less stressful. With lessons learned from a bad experience, you will find a more positive future. There always is a positive to a negative situation. You just need to find it.

Happiness has been a factor for many generations. The United States Declaration of Independence contained the words, "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. ..." We have the right to be individual happiness in this country, so how do we find this sought-after state? It may start with one right sentence or a thought for you to begin changing your thinking for the better. I wish to help you find that lasting feeling of happiness, and avoid the negative "curves" that cause you to experience excessive stress or inability to cope.

Ever since I began researching the topic of happiness, I have been trying to follow my own suggestions on happiness. I must admit that it has worked, but it takes an effort to make it happen. I discovered that it soon became a part of me. I no longer fell into the usual "funk" after being hurt by what someone did or said. I recognized hurt feelings and chose to rise above them by moving on. It took some work, but I felt better about things, and I am sure my physical well-being did not suffer as it would have if I allowed myself to stress out about every little incident. Unhappiness affects your body, your mind, and spirit in negative ways. There are several proven actions/behaviors that can increase happiness in the part of the brain that is responsible for emotions.

Actions to Take to Experience Happiness

Spirituality. There is scientific evidence that individuals that have spiritual or religious beliefs are happier than people who do not. They perform more acts of kindness and compassion. Spirituality can offer protective qualities that can assist us in maintaining satisfaction throughout our lives. When practiced within a community, spirituality can provide the support for others during their difficult times of need.

Physical Health. Taking care of yourself through exercise and proper diet has positive effects on your physical and emotional health. Exercise releases pleasure-inducing endorphins that increase positive mood and motivation. It also reduces stress, anxiety and depression. A 30-minute daily exercise program with 5 daily servings of fruits and vegetables will build a foundation for lasting happiness.

Mindfulness. Adjusting to a slower-paced lifestyle and focusing on the present will lead to improved productivity and happiness. Meditation is a way to achieve mindfulness. It can increase the happiness in the brain and move to more positive functioning. Breathing slowly for 5 minutes can help redirect negative thoughts. If your thoughts drift to past events or concerns, guide yourself gently back to the present and breath.

Interacting with Others. The most important source of happiness is spending time with family and friends. You need to maintain a work/life balance. Positive interpersonal relations will enrich your life and create lasting happiness.

Resiliency. Learn the task of bouncing back from negative situations.

Expressing Thankfulness. Every single day, think of at least one thing for which to be thankful. It is also important to express gratitude to others for the good things that they have done for you. Gratitude is linked to happiness. You feel happy when you have helped someone in need, and happy when someone helps you when you are in need.

Be Positive. This may take some work, but smiling and experiencing other positive behaviors can eventually become part of your being. You will become more positive even though you did not feel that way at first. Being positive makes people want to be with you. It is contagious. If you smile, others will smile as well.

Live a Meaningful Life. Establish meaningful life goals and enjoy the journey. Goals or purposes may change along the way, but expect both the hard and delightful times. You are meant to be where you are. Make the best of the situation and smile. Happiness is a way of life.

Happiness is not somewhere to be found, but it is within everyone. We need to remove the obstacles and limiting beliefs. Trying too hard to be happy may keep most of us from being happy. Lasting happiness is a lifestyle and life-long process.

Tips for Lasting Happiness

Avoid Self-blame. There is no such thing as instant happiness, so if it does not work for you the first time, don't blame yourself. Just try, try again. Simply, try another way although it may take a while. Be persistent.

Access Daily. Happiness is within all of us. The more that you can access this happiness, the easier it becomes. Hint: do what you love to do daily.

Compassion. Happiness of others is directly related to the happiness you feel. Compassion for others is a path toward happiness. Your willingness to help, to provide support can result in happiness for both parties. Happiness is finding joy in everyday experiences. Make the best of every situation.

Just Be. If you think of happiness as a way of life, you can feel free to just be yourself. You will feel positive and this will radiate to everyone else around you. Think positive and your world will be more positive. Yes, there is much grief in today's world, but you do not need to dwell on it. Dwelling on grief is not part of any solution. Concentrating on the positive, no matter how small they may be, will lead you to a happier, healthier and more productive life. Remember: When one door closes, another door opens. Find the door knob.

We all have the choice in happiness. Lasting happiness occurs when we bring our negative thinking into the positive by focusing on the good things that are happening, the people who we love and who are meaningful in our lives. The more we practice this behavior, the easier it becomes and the happier we will be. Lasting happiness comes alive when you concentrate on your life's journey, the good and bad, in the company of family and friends. Your physical and mental health should be a priority along with religion and spirituality. The result will be a life of happiness that can sustain you through tough challenging times.

I will conclude with some inspirational quotes. "Nobody can make you feel inferior without your consent." –

Eleanor Roosevelt

"Don't cry because it's over, smile because it happened."

Dr. Seuss

"You must do the thing you think you cannot do." – Eleanor Roosevelt

"Very little is needed to make a happy life; it is all within yourself, in your way of thinking." – Marcus Aurelius

"People are just as happy as they make up their minds to be." – Abraham Lincoln

"For every minute you are angry you lose sixty seconds of happiness." – Ralph Waldo Emerson

Jak być szczęśliwym?

Niektóre z czynników, które sprawiają że jesteśmy szczęśliwi odziedziczyliśmy w genach, inne świadomie możemy kształtować. Według psychologów, aż 40% indywidualnego poczucia szczęścia kształtowane jest przez nasze zachowania. Modyfikując je, możemy poprawić swoją satysfakcję z życia.

Bądź aktywny

Aktywność fizyczna to jeden z najskuteczniejszych sposobów na zwiększenie poczucia szczęścia. Niektórzy badacze twierdzą, że osobom pogrążonym w depresji ruch może wręcz zastąpić środki antydepresyjne. Chociaż stan przygnębienia nie zachęca do ćwiczeń fizycznych, zwykły spacer po parku czy lesie, taniec przed lustrem, a nawet sprzątanie skutecznie pobudzą działanie endorfin.

Porzuć rutynę

Tym, co negatywnie wpływa na nasze samopoczucie, bywa tzw. adaptacja hedonistyczna, polegająca na przyzwyczajaniu się do przyjemnych bodźców i po pewnym czasie płynąca z nich satysfakcja słabnie. Przepłataj ulubione czynności zupełnie nowymi. Różnorodność i spontaniczność są czynnikami, które skutecznie niwelują efekt adaptacji hedonistycznej.

Zrób coś dla innych

Wydawanie pieniędzy na innych często sprawia nam większą przyjemność niż wydawanie ich na siebie. Lubimy obdarowywać bliskie osoby albo przekazywać darowizny na ważny dla nas cel. Dawanie nie musi mieć zawsze wymiaru finansowego. Skuteczne dla naszego samopoczucia są także kierowane do innych dobre myśli, życzenia i gesty, wyrażające miłość, wdzięczność lub wsparcie.

Ciesz się chwilą

Zdolność do delektowania się pozytywnymi doświadczeniami jest nieodzownym warunkiem szczęścia. Chodzi o aktywne przeżywanie pięknego otoczenia, radosnych momentów, smacznego posiłku, etc. Nawet na coś pozornie mało znaczącego można spojrzeć w nowy sposób.

Nie rób w ogóle nic

W pogoni za szczęściem bezustannie szukamy czegoś nowego, co ma odmienić nasz los. W dążeniu do lepszego życia, łatwo wpaść w pułapkę zagonienia. Często duże sukcesy cieszą mniej, niż byśmy się spodziewali, a największe szczęście można znaleźć w momentach, gdy o nic nie walczymy i nie planujemy żadnych zmian.

Eat Your Way to Happiness

Wouldn't it be even more amazing if eating could make you more joyful, calm, and healthy? Research has demonstrated that some foods work with your brain to make you feel happier and more relaxed, and have similar effects on the body as taking prescription anti-depressants, anti-anxiety, and muscle relaxants. Add these healthy foods to your diet.

Avocado

Tryptophan, an essential amino acid used by the brain to produce serotonin—the feel good central nervous system neurotransmitter—is abundant in this fruit. Avocados are also beneficial for skin, hair and nails. You look good; you feel good!

Berries

Blueberries, raspberries, and strawberries have anthocyanins which help reduce depression and stress.

Chicken

Vitamin B12 found in poultry helps calm the body. Chicken soup, known for its curing cold and flu powers, also improves mood and boosts energy.

Dark Chocolate

This savory treat is high in magnesium, which helps reduce anxiety and calms muscles also contains phenylethylamine (PEA), the chemical created by the brain when you experience falling in love. PEA promotes the brain's release of endorphins.

Green Tea

While tea has long been considered to be a soothing beverage, green tea is full of theanine, an amino acid which is known to lower stress and anxiety and elevate mood.

Salmon

High in Omega 3s, this fatty fish helps stabilize moods, decrease depression and improve memory and focus.

Spinach

Spinach leaves contains high amounts of folic acid, known for its mood-elevating benefits.

Swiss Chard

Rich in magnesium, this leafy green is especially beneficial for women by helping manage stress better, improve quality of sleep, and alleviate symptoms of PMS.

Tomatoes

Lycopene, an antioxidant found in tomatoes fights inflammation in the brain. Because lycopene is fat soluble, eat tomatoes with some olive oil, which helps the body absorb lycopene.

Walnuts

Walnuts are loaded with B vitamins. These help keep mood balanced, fight fatigue, anxiety, stress, tension and irritability. They are rich in Omega 3s which help the brain function properly and ward off depression.

Kashubian Menu

Kashubian Herring

Śledź po kaszubsku

Herring fish, also called hylyng, is very important in the Pomeranian economy. This fish is a must during Christmas, Easter, name-days, or any other occasions. Respected for its taste and health properties, it is one of the most popular 100-year-old herring recipes in Poland. The meal is fast and easy to make!

Ingredients:

- 6 herring fillets in oil
- 1 onion
- 1/2 bundle of parsley
- 1/4 glass of oil
- 2 spoons of tomato paste
- 2 spoons of ketchup
- 2 spoons of sugar
- 1 spoon of 10% wine vinegar

Directions:

Chop onion into small pieces. Heat up and begin frying oil on a pan. Then place the chopped up onions and wait until they begin to glow. Season the blend with salt and pepper, then stir well and fry for another 1 - 2 minutes. Set aside the pan so that everything can cool down. Dip the herring in oil, then cut it into small pieces. Place it into a bowl. Mix the herring with sauce in a jar or a glass bowl. Refrigerate overnight for a better taste.

Potato Soup

Zupa Ziemniaczana

Potatoes are nearly an essential addition to any Polish meal, especially in the Kashubian region. There are about 117 different kinds of potatoes, with 83 of them being Polish. At one point in history, this vegetable was considered to be an exotic, decorative plant. Nowadays, the potatoes continue to inspire many recipes such as soups, which is an excellent source of fiber, potassium, vitamin C, and B6.

Ingredients:

- 8-9 cups of broth
- 3-4 cups of potatoes
- 2 medium onions
- 2 carrots
- the white end of a leek
- 1 celery stalk
- oil
- allspice
- bay leaf
- grainy pepper
- cumin
- fresh dill (or parsley)
- cream for whitening
- 2 spoons of butter
- 2 spoons of flour
- salt
- pepper

Directions:

Cut onions into small pieces. Chop or grate leek, celery, and carrots. Heat some oil on a pot and add vegetables. When the water evaporates, sprinkle the vegetables with flour and fry them. Add broth. Add the potatoes, seasonings, and cook for about 30 minutes. Let the soup cook for another 30 minutes, add fresh dill or parsley, cream and enjoy.

Cabbage with Mushrooms

Kapusta z grzybami

Along with mushrooms, cabbage is a popular Polish culinary addition all throughout the country. Quite commonly, this vegetable appears in everyday recipes such as bigos, pierogi, and gołąbki. Some people use it strictly for medical purposes since it helps support a healthy heart. In the Pomeranian region, sauerkraut is quite a popular choice in fresh markets.

Ingredients:

- 4 cups of sauerkraut
- 0.4 cups of dried mushrooms
- 1 teaspoon of honey
- 0.25 cups of oil
- mushroom broth
- A pinch of pepper and/or seasoning (optional)

Directions:

Place the mushrooms in a water-filled container, then leave them for about an hour. Separate the mushrooms, and boil the water that was in the container. Check the state of your sauerkraut. Make sure that it is not too sour. Dip the sauerkraut in water and cook it in a pot for about an hour. Cut the mushroom into pieces, add some oil and mushrooms. Throw in the cube of mushroom broth and add honey. Mix it well! Simmer for about two hours. Cool down, then begin to simmer again for an additional hour. For more flavor, add some pepper or other spices. Most of the water should be evaporated.

Kashubian Fish Soup

Zupa rybna

Ingredients:

- 4 small flounders (or other sea fish)
- 6 oz sour cream (12 %)
- 1 carrot
- 1 parsley
- 1 onion
- 3-5 allspice
- 1-2 bay leaf
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1 spoon flour
- salt
- pepper
- fresh parsley or dill to garnish

Directions:

Carefully cut the fish. Cut away the fins and tails and remove the dark skin. Salt the fish and leave for 30 minutes. In the meantime, prepare vegetable stock made of carrots, parsnips and onions. Add allspice and bay leaf. Once it is cooked, add lemon juice and put the fish in. Simmer gently for ca. 10 minutes. Take the fish out and put on a plate. Mix cream with flour, then pour into the simmering stock. Season the soup with salt and pepper, and add chopped parsley leaves. Pour it over the fish. Enjoy!

Kashubian Kugels

Kaszubskie Kugle

This Kashubian sweet is known throughout all of Poland, and it is quite easy to make too. These small buns with an apple in the middle are a perfect dessert while sipping warm tea or coffee. They taste best when warm!

Ingredients:

- 8 small apples (cored, cut in half if bigger)
- 2 cups of flour
- 0.8 cups of powdered sugar
- 1/2 cubes of butter
- 1 pack of cream 12%
- 1 pack of dry yeast
- 1 pinch of salt

Directions:

Mix flour, powdered sugar, dry yeast, and salt in a big bowl. On a separate pan combine melted butter with cream, but make sure that the butter isn't too heated up. Add the mixture to the bowl. Begin to mix the dough before leaving it for approximately 15 minutes. Form balls into 8 evenly-large pieces. Flatten them with your hands or with a rolling pin, and then place apple inside. Form the dough into balls again. Place apple balls on a greased baking plate, separated. Bake at 356 degrees Fahrenheit for approximately 30 minutes! Sprinkle with powdered sugar, if you wish.
